Practice of Economy is Greatest Among Coolidge's Promises

THRIFT INDUCES VETOES

Increase in Pay for Postal Clerks Is Probable, David Lawrence Says

Washington, D. C.—There is no thrill doubtless like the thrill of a vote of confidence given by the American people to a servant in public office—and as Calvin Coolidge sat at his desk Saturday and received call after call, his eyes seem to show plainly the light of an eagerness to fulfill what so many voters expect of him.

The president was full of smiles, happiness was written in every sentence he uttered, he appeared somehow to be relieved of a great strain. Perhaps he has not been conscious of that strain. But it was a combination of shyness and caution and great modesty. Placed in office by the hand of Providence, he felt a responsibility to follow in the footsteps of another. Appointments were to a large extent guided by commitments made by his predecessor. Inauguration may be four months away but to all intents and purposes the second term of President Coolidge began this week. The ceremony on March 4, will be of only technical and historical importance. For President Coolidge is turning toward his tasks with a feeling that henceforth he must fulfill the pledges of his campaign.

Greatest among those pledges was a promise to practice economy. Foremost among the impressions of Calvin Coolidge among the voters generally was that which emphasized his thrift, his life-time habit of careful expenditure. It has remained with him in the White House. It was the basis of his many vetoes in the last session of congress. He had been advised that more votes are obtained by satisfying the demands of members of congress for compensation than by any other method in one form or another whether it was an increase in pay to the postal service or veterans pensions but Mr. Coolidge chose to believe the wiser policy in the long run was to veto any proposed expenditure if it was not justified. There probably will be an increase in pay to the postal clerks. It seems to be admitted on all sides that the clerks are underpaid but the question that has to be solved is from what source the increased revenue is to be obtained—increased rates on parcel post or second class matter or a revision of all postal rates.

FINANCES ARE HEALTHY

Government finances are in splendid shape. The new tax law has brought a definite budget surplus. Will congress give the American people the benefit of lower taxes or will it insist on spending the surplus? President Coolidge's leadership on this issue will be revealed in the message now being prepared for the December session of congress. Mr. Coolidge promised earlier in the year to continue his efforts for tax revision. It is unlikely that there will be any change in the present law. The president did not feel justified in vetoing the whole law to secure a revision of any portion of it. A campaign was ahead and he couldn't imperil tax relief by a veto. But now the situation has changed. Even with a congress in which the La Follette radicals hold the balance of power, for they remain in office until next March, the president can if he chooses present a measure for amendment of the present act and some of the insurgent Republicans may not be as anxious to oppose Mr. Coolidge as they were several months ago. The election returns may have had a salutary effect on those who would obstruct merely for individual or partisan advantage.

With reference to the present tax law, there will be some interesting data sought from the treasury as to the productivity of the new rates. It would not be surprising to find that the real reason for the surplus is not the lower rates at all but the enforcement of the law. Several new administrative provisions were inserted by the treasury in the last law based upon experience with evasion and avoidance. Many loopholes have been plugged. Even had the old 1922 rates remained on the statute books there would have been increased revenues due to improved administration. There is also the improvement in business conditions to be taken into account. Unquestionably there will be another drive for tax revision and economy in government expenditure. It's the big rest issue of the moment next to an agricultural program and President Coolidge will have something to say on both when he sends his message to congress and presents the budget for the next fiscal year.

Steck, Democrat, was begun Monday when boards of supervisors in each of Iowa's 99 counties met to count the votes of Tuesday's election as entered on the poll books. The official result was being tabulated here in the office of Secretary of State W. Cramsey and of The Associated Press.

It was believed that the official canvass would take two days for completion.

ARREST OF TONG WAR INSTIGATOR MAY SEAL PEACE

Chin Jack Len, Wanted in Cleveland, Is Taken by New York Police

By Associated Press

New York.—Police Sunday night expressed the belief that the truce between the Hip Sing and On Leong tongs will become permanent following the arrest Sunday of Chin Jack Len, 53, a Chinese said to be wanted in Cleveland, O., as a fugitive from justice. Len is reputed to have been directly responsible for the tong war throughout the United States in which 16 Chinese have lost their lives, police say.

According to the police, Len is wanted in Cleveland on an indictment charging him with having "threatened to kill one Wong Sing if he did not hand over to him the title to a vast tract of land in Ohio valued at about $75,000."

Len at the time, the police said, was president of the Cleveland branch of the On Leong Tong, but following his indictment was expelled from the organization. He then is said to have joined the rival tong of Hip Sing, and it was his acceptance as a member by the latter body that is alleged to have caused the tong war, as there was said to have been an agreement between the two organizations that neither would admit an expelled member of the other.

The 14 days' truce between the warring tongs will expire next Thursday but the authorities are of the opinion that the arrest of Len will result in the signing of the permanent peace treaty.

Cleveland, O.—While searching for information concerning Low Tai said to be a Cleveland long member whose body was found in New York Sunday, police Monday came upon a peace agreement signed by 20 members of the Chinese Merchants' association and witnessed by a police officer and an attorney.

Chinese were silent about Low Tai's connection and so far as any member of the On Leong Tong would say he was not a member of that organization. The agreement pledges its signers to keep peace and to cooperate with city and county authorities in preventing trouble, apprehending wrongdoers and prosecuting law violators.

HUNT DEFENDS MODERNISTS IN SUNDAY SPEECH

Fundamentalist Believes in Rigid Dogma, Madison Pastor Says

By Associated Press

Madison.—Dr. George E. Hunt, pastor of Christ Presbyterian church here, defended his stand on religious beliefs in an address Sunday in which he said the chief difference between the fundamentalist and the modernist beliefs is a difference in the attitude of mind towards Jesus and church teachings.

"The fundamentalist believes that the essence of religious faith lies in the strict adherence to a definite system of doctrine," Dr. Hunt declared, "that everything in the bible is literally, historically and scientifically true; they believe in the doctrinal and confessional method of salvation. Salvation to the modernist lies in the open mind toward all truth and the loving heart toward all men."

"The fundamentalist holds to a rigid system of dogma which to him is the law of God. It is the modern survival of the ancient Phariseism—strict adherence to an external law."

Dr. Hunt entered into a discussion of the case of Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York.

He explained at length his beliefs and a declaration here fixing on charges against him recently before the Madison presbytery of the church.

Kenosha.—Max Hasendebeln, alias Albert E. Orrendorf is in the county jail in the city lockup here fixing on a time that will carry the verse about the wild elopement of the tomato catsup and the whole wheat buns. He is charged with forgery. He was identified here as Hasendebeln by Detective Tanny of Racine, where the man is also wanted for forgery. He was sent to Green Bay on the charge of burglary in 1913 for a two-year term.

National Guard Sent To Quell Race Riots

Armed White Workmen Drive 500 Negro Laborers from Kentucky Project After Black Robbers Kill Youth

By Associated Press

Frankfort, Ky.—National guard troops were hurriedly dispatched to the Dix river dam in Mercer county about 25 miles southeast of Frankfort, early Monday, then reports of race rioting reaching the adjacent general's office here. The trouble is believed to have started with the robbery and slaying Sunday night of Edward Winkley, 35, a dam worker.

Winkley was shot to death by a Negro called "Jelly Roll," peace officers were informed. Just how many guardsmen went to the dam near High Bridge, Ky., could be ascertained. Captain Carl Norman of Frankfort is understood to have taken all men who could be assembled up to 4 A. M., and departed.

Individual guardsmen still in Harrodsburg, Ky.—Armed white workmen drove out approximately 500 Negroes from the construction camp of the Dix river dam, eight miles from here, Sunday night after Edward Winkley, 18, a bridegroom of only a few days, had been fatally shot by Negro highwaymen.

Fifty national guardsmen arrived at the Dix river construction camp shortly after 5:30 o'clock Monday morning and immediately established themselves. One detachment remained on guard at the dam and another, on request of the contractors in charge of the dam work, was used as an escort to protect Negro workers who were being returned.

All Negroes will be paid off. It was announced, and those who wish to remain will be retained on the company's payroll.

Lodge, Senate Leader, Succumbs To Stroke After Four Day Fight

Lies in State of Coma for 16 Hours After His First Seizure

MEDICS PRAISE VITALITY

Illness Leading to Death Similar to That of Woodrow Wilson

By Associated Press

Cambridge.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge died at the Charlesgate hospital at 11:14 Sunday night. Stricken at noon Wednesday, the senior senator from Massachusetts lingered for four and a half days when the end came. During the latter part of the time he lay in a state of coma but after nearly 16 hours of unconsciousness he roused for a time to take a little nourishment and recognized persons in the room.

The hope that revived for a time faded, however, as he lapsed again into unconsciousness and gradually grew weaker. Never from the outset did his physicians offer encouragement in their bulletins. They did, however, comment upon the vitality that despite his 74 years enabled him to live on for days when death was expected momentarily. The illness that led to death was similar to that of President Wilson the original complaint being similar and the stroke that brought on the end much the same.

Three other members of the Lodge family the senators son and two grandsons were in the hospital when he died. Waiting in an outer room were John E. Lodge, the son of Senator Lodge with John D. Lodge and Henry Cabot II, grandsons. Charles P. Redmond, secretary to the senator, also was in the hospital.

Word of his death brought tribute from many places. Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, who shared with him the representation of Massachusetts in the upper house, said: "Massachusetts has lost a statesman and a scholar who added more to her prestige than any other man in half a century."

Funeral services will be held at the home of Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, a lifelong friend of the senator and a fellow member of the class of 1871 at Harvard. Burial will be in the Lodge family lot at the Mount Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

Passing of Massachusetts Sol-on Complicates Senate Organization

MUST NAME NEW LEADER

Warren of Wyoming or Curtis of Kansas Mentioned as Successor

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C.—The passing of Senator Lodge just as his party was preparing to harvest the fruits of a sweeping victory at the polls, surrounds the question of leadership in the senate with new and unusual considerations.

A veteran of the old guard, adamant against the policies of the La Follette insurgents on the one hand and unable to accept some of the proposals of the Republican administration on the other, the Massachusetts patriarch more than once had found his title as Republican floor leader somewhat of an anomaly.

Now that the powerful equation of his personal influence has been removed from the problem, party chiefs face the task of deciding what new alignment can be effected to fill the gap and make for party solidarity.

In the determination of this question, President Coolidge undoubtedly will have an opportunity to yield the dominant power of party leadership conferred on him by the election. If he cares to give it, his advice will be a powerful factor in deciding whether the old guard is to remain as the directing force of the senate or whether seniority is to be cast aside and some new leader lifted from the ranks.

This question assumes a still greater significance when it is considered that the new congress which meets next year will see a substantial increase in Republican senate strength.

MAY UPSET BALANCE

In view of the changes to take place as a result of the election and the close balance in the present congress, any permanent reorganization on the Republican side may be delayed for some months and a temporary leader designated to act during the short session. Should no sweeping readjustment of the senate situation be attempted, it is possible that Senator Warren of Wyoming or Senator Curtis of Kansas will become floor leader. But if there is to be a new deal all around those to be considered probably will include Wadsworth of New York, Moses of New Hampshire, Watson of Indiana and Reed of Pennsylvania.

Senator Lodge is the third prominent senate Republican to die within recent weeks. As a result the Republican party finds itself with a membership of only 45 in the present senate, one less than a majority, unless Governor Cox of Massachusetts appoints a successor to the venerable legislator before congress reassembles on Dec. 1.

Although the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Colt of Rhode Island was filled in Tuesday's election, that resulting from the more recent death of Senator Brandegee of Connecticut will not be filled until Dec. 15, in a special election. As this is more than two weeks after the time set for the convening of congress the senate will meet without a full membership.

In the face of that situation with but fifty Republican members not all of whom are classed as strict organization men, the problem is expected to develop difficulties which will require expert handling if the Republicans are to continue in the session in the dominant party of the senate.

Under the rule of seniority, Borah of Idaho, ranking Republican member, will succeed to the chairmanship of the foreign relations committee which, it is believed, he would accept although it would mean his surrender of the chairmanship of the education and labor committee and abandonment of any idea of assuming the chairmanship of the judiciary committee for which he is also in line through the death of Senator Brandegee, under the practice which restricts a senator to one major chairmanship.

The procedure for selecting a party floor leader is not so clearly defined, the seniority rule not always being followed. If it should be, the selection in this case would fall on Senator Warren of Wyoming, but if promotion should be resorted to the choice would fall on Senator Curtis or Kansas, Republican whip and assistant floor leader.

Some friends of Senator Warren are of the opinion that he would not accept the leadership and predict that Senator Curtis will be selected.

START PROBE TO LEARN IF ROGERS HAD BEEN SLAIN

Parties to Tragedy Tell Prosecutor That They Fabricated Tale to Coroner

More than a suspicion of foul play in the death of Charles H. Rogers, son of the Rev. Talbot Rogers, Fond du Lac, is contained in latest developments in the case. Hearings to determine whether Rogers was slain as the result of jealousy over a girl were to be started in New Haven Conn. on Monday. Stories told to Ward Church state prosecutor, by young people who saw Rogers and Miss Marjorie Schneider at an inn near New Haven, indicate the young man was slugged to death and that the whole story as told to relatives of the boy and to the coroner was a fabrication in order to cover up the homicide.

According to stories made public, Miss Schneider left Rogers at the inn to spend considerable time with a former fiance and Rogers and this young man had a fierce altercation before Rogers and Miss Schneider left the inn.

A friends of Miss Schneider is said to have admitted to the prosecutor that he advised Miss Schneider to fabricate the story that Rogers' head struck a telephone pole.

The girl has not yet been called by the prosecutor to tell what she knows about the case but it is understood that all the parties of the case will be called soon.

EVERY MAN MUST JUMP FOUR BREAKERS

Young People Hear Sermon on How to Lead Full Life of Happiness

Because no church in the city was large enough to accommodate all the delegates, the Sunday services for the Wisconsin Young Peoples conference were held in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday morning. Principal addresses were by Dr. P. R. Hayward and the Rev. R. A. Waite.

Dr. Hayward declared that the greatest obstacles which young people must overcome are from the inside. He compared their position with that of a swimmer poised to pump through a huge breaker on the seashore. If he doesn't time his jump accurately and discovers the law of the breaker it will cast him on the shore and life's breakers will do the same thing. He declared that every person must jump four great breakers in life and these breakers are, first, human love of adventure, which includes the search for hazard at any cost; second, human love, the call of youth to youth; third, the desire for successful achievement, and fourth the desire for self expression. All of these breakers, if they are jumped right, will carry youth along with them to a full, rich life, and a real happiness. And those some breakers, if jumped too soon, have the power to blight the lives they sweep along.

MAIL CARRIER'S AUTO IS STOLEN

A bold stroke of automobile thievery was made Saturday night when some one scorned the vigilance of the federal building, the passing crowds and the glaring lights and drove away with the Ford coupe of Robert W. Rohm, rural carrier on route 4, while he was attending a meeting of Appleton Postoffice association. The theft occurred sometime between 8 and 9 o'clock. In consequence, Mr. Rohm and Carrier F. O. Letts who had accompanied him to the meeting, had to find another way of getting to their homes on Mackville-d. Police were notified of the theft and the word was passed out to the authorities in other cities in the hope of recovering the car. The license number of the car is E119-740 and the serial number 9-689-931.

From the famous novel by Basil King

Shall Man-Made Laws Defy Divine Command?
Woman's Eternal Question! Man's Age-Old Problem!

The Divorced Husband Said:

The Divorced Wife Who Wed Again Said:
"What is divorce? The tearing of bone from bone and flesh from flesh. I am your wife. I am not Dick's. If I am one man's wife I am the other man's mistress!"

KEEP BOYS FIT TO FIGHT LIFE'S BIG FIGHT, SPEAKER SAYS

More Girls Than Boys Registered at Young People's Conference

J. L. Rogers, state secretary, conducted a Who's Who, Saturday afternoon, as part of the program of the Wisconsin Young People's conference. He said that some conception of the territory of the states represented might be brought home to the delegates. He said that 45 counties had sent delegates, 649 of whom were registered in Saturday's count. Counties and their representatives were: Washington, 3; Wood, 5; Winnebago, 65; Washburn, 1; Waushara, 11; Waupaca, 41; Walworth, 3; Vernon, 2; St. Croix, 1; Sheboygan, 24; Shawano, 10; Sauk, 3; Richland, 13; Racine, 38; Portage, 3; Pierce, 4; Oneida, 4; Oconto, 28; Milwaukee, 11; Marquette, 9; Marinette, 11; Marathon, 3; Manitowish, 12; Monroe, 1; Lincoln, 7; Langlade, 9; Lafayette, 4; Kewaunee, 4; Kenosha, 54; Jefferson, 1; Jackson, 1; Iowa, 9; Green Lake, 4; Green, 2; Fond du Lac, 68; Door, 9; Dodge, 5; Dane, 18; Columbia, 23; Clark, 12; Brown, 8; Barron, 4; Adams, 8; Ashland, 9. Girls are more numerous than boys in this summary, having a registration of 380, as against 260 for the boys.

Football has a potent lure, even in the midst of a young people's conference, and the Rev. M. J. Van Buren realized this as he got up to make a speech to the assembly. His topic was Carrying the Ball, and his message was a stirring appeal to youth to realize that the characteristics of a great football player go into the making of a great Christian. He pointed out the four great major things that must be part of a successful life.

"Know yourself!" he said. "Find your weakness and guard against them, and know the strength of your physical body and be confident of it. The second great thing, he said, is to control yourself. The third is to keep socially pure. In other words, to form the defense to help the other fellow to carry the ball. And the last and perhaps the greatest thing, is to always put the other fellow first, because getting lost in living. All these things bound up together, declared the speaker will make a moral fibre and a physique and a spiritual strength that will stand the test put to it, when the coach says 'Put the ball across!'"

The closing part of the program was a discussion hour for boys and girls in different parts of the church, when the problem of how to spend leisure time was talked about. The Rev. R. A. Waite led the boys' discussion and Mrs. A. A. Lamoreaux was in charge of the girls. The latter stressed the fact that the scrapbook of leisure moments was a valuable possession, and that the five minutes and half hours that went to fill it were the elements which ultimately colored lives, and put the finishing touches to them. She said that play, in the sense of re-creating body and soul was a necessity to human beings, and that any kind of play was Christian that "fitted in with the great individual purpose." She said that the physical side of play was important because it built up a body that was strong for service. And the mental, social and spiritual recreations were as vital in the life of each person, if they obeyed that one law of following the main track of the railroad, and did not switch off on to the side lines, now and then.

ON THE SCREEN

AT THE ELITE

Thoroughbred horses used in many scenes in "In Every Woman's Life" proved difficult to direct. They could not become accustomed to the glare of the studio lights, even when covered with blinders. They proved to be restless and frightened.

When Irving Cummings was directing the dinner on horseback in this First National picture, which is now being shown at the Elite theatre, he had to make a few scenes and then allow the horses to rest. It took several days to make this one scene, which was difficult and dangerous to the actors, without the nervousness displayed by the thoroughbreds.

Later on in the production a race-horse is brought into a living room to be shown to his master before the race. The first time the scene was taken without a hitch. The second time the horse displayed nervousness and the third time he broke one of the doors, turned over a pedestal, broke vases and almost got away from the groom in whose charge he was placed. He was allowed to rest for several hours and the scene was retaken later in the day.

Mr. Cummings regards horses as the most difficult to direct, due to their timidity and size.

FOUR FAVORITES OF STAGE
ACT IN SAME FILM
Pauline Frederick and Lou Tellegen

The cast in "Let Not Man Put Asunder," the J. Stuart Blackton special production, which will be seen at the New Bijou Tuesday and Wednesday and Thursday, is remarkable because each of the four leading players have been trained in both stage playing and screen acting.

Mrs. Pauline Frederick, who has the leading role, has been for years one of the greatest emotional actresses of the stage and screen of this generation. She was trained to the stage long before she went into pictures and became the leading actress of emotional characterizations. Lou Tellegen, who plays the "great lover" on stage and screen, was trained in the French school and came to America as leading man to Madame Sarah Bernhardt. In Leslie Austen, those who en-

Amundson and State Poultry Specialists Will Conduct Demonstrations

Another series of poultry culling demonstrations will be given in Outagamie-co this week. The demonstrations held here a year ago met with such satisfaction that on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 12 and 13, J. B. Hayes, poultry specialist of the University of Wisconsin, together with R. A. Amundson, county agricultural agent, will visit six different towns.

The schedule of the meetings is as follows:
For Wednesday—10 o'clock, Ed. Lohrenz farm, Ellington; 1 o'clock, Mrs. Frank Riedel farm, Bovina, 3:30; John Sawall farm, Liberty; 7:30, Maple Grove Pavilion, town of Maple Grove.
For Thursday—1 o'clock, Albert VanGomple farm, Vandenberg; 3:30, Tobbs Brothers farm, town of Seymour.

At these demonstrations Mr. Hayes will give actual demonstrations with the live birds on how to pick the layers from the non-layers, both in old hens and pullets. The process is simple enough so that anyone who has seen it done will know how to do it on his own flock.

Mr. Hayes will also give short talks on feeding, housing and care of poultry. The meetings are open to the public. The older pupils of the nearby schools will be asked to attend these demonstrations. Egg records will be kept a week before the cullings and also a week after.

WON'T GET NUMBERS UNTIL IN JANUARY

A change in the date of issuing the new house numbers has been announced by the city engineering department. The city council had originally provided that residents should call for their new numbers between Nov. 1 and Dec. 1, but the time has been postponed until Jan. 1 in deference to the wishes of the postoffice department. It was pointed out that a large number of substitute mail carriers will be on duty before Christmas. And if the numbers were changed now, the duplication of addresses would only confuse the substitutes and tend to hamper the delivery of mail. The new house numbers will therefore not be disclosed until Jan. 1.

RECEIVE INHERITANCE TAXES ON TWO ESTATES

Two payments of inheritance taxes were received by Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, within the last few days. John F. FIX ASSESSMENT FOR COUNTY TAXES

Three Sets of Assessment Figures Used in Outagamie-co This Year

Valuation of Outagamie-co property which will be the basis of the county tax levy has been fixed at $96,083,534. This figure, established by Leo J. Toonen, supervisor of assessments, was adopted at a meeting of the county equalization committee and recommended to the county board of supervisors.

The estimate of true values of real and personal property, as adopted by the equalization committee, is $3,000,000 lower than the assessment made against the county by the state tax commission, but aggregate assessment of the various local assessors in the county amounted to only $79,927,710. The only difference in the three valuations is that the assessment by the local assessors is the basis for local tax levies, the equalization committee's figures the basis of county tax levies, and the tax commission's valuation the basis of state taxes.

The annual report of the supervisor of assessments containing summary of the real and personal property of the various towns, villages and cities, will go to the printer this week and will be published in about two weeks.

The Gland That Causes Men To Get Up at Night

The gland that causes getting up at night is known as the prostate and is a notorious trouble maker. It is estimated that 65 out of every 100 men past 40, and many under that age, have prostate disease, which, if unchecked, often leads to a serious operation. The prostate surrounds the neck of the bladder like a washer. Naturally, when the bladder becomes inflamed by poisons which the kidneys filter out of the blood, the irritation spreads to the prostate. As the gland swells, it closes the neck of the bladder, making urination difficult and painful and causing pains in the back, head and legs.

MANITOWOC DOWNS LEGION TEAM IN BITTER BATTLE

Shipyards Squad, with Breaks
in Its Favor, Wins Fierce
Contest

Kaukauna—An early moon cast a soft glow over the field of battle at Manitowoc Sunday for nearly three hours the pride of the Shipyards city and the Kaukauna American Legion football team wrangled, haggled and fought for supremacy. Before truce was declared the 1,200 fans assembled saw one of the most hectic and disgusting games possible. Fully 600 people accompanied the Kaukauna team. The final score was 16 to 13 in favor of the Manitowoc team.

Every break of the game went to the home team. The Shipyards team earned one place kick from the 20 yard line, the ball sailing close enough to one of the upstarts to let Referee Herli of Manitowoc allow the score. Kaukauna earned one touchdown and that came in the first seven minutes of play. The Electric City aggregation plowed through the home team in a manner that left little doubt as to which team was superior.

Later in the game Manitowoc was near enough to try for a drop kick. The ball sailed a few feet in the air through the entire Kaukauna team. Two Manitowoc players dropped on the oval over the line for their first touchdown. Score 6 and 6. Then came the place kick which gave the home gang three more points.

After the placekick Manitowoc kicked off to Kaukauna, the ball landing behind the goal line and bounding through the wire fence and behind the line of players. The oval was thrown back by a youngster and Manitowoc players recovered it. The team was given another touchdown. The game was held up for several minutes while rule books were consulted.

After that Kaukauna was unable to come back with its usual spirit and Manitowoc held the legion for downs repeatedly. Kaukauna passes were intercepted and Kaukauna fumbles were recovered by Manitowoc. The home team, on the other hand, completed pass after pass and won the advantage of every break of the game except one which gave Kaukauna its last touchdown.

In the third quarter Kaukauna was forced to punt from its 20 yard line. The ball went to the Manitowoc quarterback on the 50 yard line, hit his hands and made one bound toward Kaukauna's goal. Before the oval hit the ground again, R. Schmidt, the fastest man on the squad, made a pretty running pickup and was off to the goal line. The goal kick was good and the score was 16 to 13.

During the remainder of the third quarter and throughout the fourth Kaukauna was unable to punch its way down the field and was on the defensive most of the time.

The feeling of unfriendly rivalry between the teams broke out frequently. Once during the fracas the Manitowoc fans swarmed over the field when they saw a Kaukauna man deliberately hit an opponent. The man was laid out for a few minutes. Both players were ejected from the game, however, for the Manitowoc player had started the altercation by kicking.

POULTRY SHOW ATTRACTS CROWD AT STOCK FAIR

Kaukauna—It is thought the plan of adding a poultry fair to the usual monthly stock fair was responsible for the large crowd of farmers which came to Kaukauna Saturday. While no extra amusement or attraction had been advertised, the fair grounds on Dodge-st. were as filled as always.

Farmers had little trouble in disposing of their pigs and had less difficulty in selling poultry. Ducks, geese, turkeys and chickens were sold in great quantities and brought good prices. Much of the poultry was purchased by local people for the Thanksgiving holiday but stock which farmers were unable to sell was taken off their hands by the Tri-County Stock Fair association.

FOUR SENTENCED AND GIVEN PAROLE BY CIRCUIT JUDGE

E. O. Frihart Is Discharged and Rearrested When Technicality Develops

Special to Post-Crescent
Waupaca—E. O. Frihart's case in circuit court for Waupaca-co in session here on Thursday developed a peculiar situation. Mr. Frihart was charged with illegal possession of liquor. The jury was selected after examining the entire jury panel and several others. Those chosen were: Earl Potter, Lind, Anna Stanley, Clintonville; Herman Kikhofer, Matteson; Clyde Labar, Iowa town; Manilla Roach, Clintonville; Esther Bieder, Man, Iowa town; Carrie Allen, Waupaca; Carrie Hartel, Mukwa; Frank Sheffeler, Little Wolf; W. L. Mix, Waupaca; Doris Hartquist, Matteson; Fred Bushier, Waupaca. A position of the testimony then was given and a technical point arose as to the change, with the evidence produced. Judge Parks dismissed the jury for the day. District Attorney Olen and Attorney O'Keefe for the defendant argued the point before the court in the evening session. Judge Parks ruled, however, that the defendant be dismissed and be rearrested on a new warrant. This took place immediately. The defendant was then arraigned again in district court and bound over to the next term of circuit court. The jury in the case was dismissed Friday morning.

James Clish pleaded guilty to a charge of abandonment, was sentenced to two years in Green Bay reformatory, but was paroled to the state probation officer to be put to work and a portion of his earnings be turned over to his wife for the support of herself and child.

Arthur Daley entered a plea of guilty to the charge of abandonment and received a sentence of two years in the Green Bay reformatory. He was also placed upon parole.

Harvey Bohl and Kenneth Moore, charged with burglary, pleaded guilty and they too were sentenced to Green Bay reformatory and paroled.

The cases of the State vs. Morris Thompson, charged with resisting an officer, and that of state vs. Mosie Lucy, charged with illegal possession of liquor, were continued to the February term. Other cases continued are those of Clarence J. Barr, abandonment; Fred Minton, criminal conspiracy and burglary; Benonie Bjornson, illegal possession of liquor; Bernie Paulson, abandonment and George Rice, abandonment.

The sensational Arthur LaValley case will be tried on Nov. 24 after a short recess of the court. LaValley was charged with assault upon a woman. He was tried at the 1923 fall term before a jury which disagreed and the case was continued at the spring term. District Attorney Otto L. Olen will be assisted by E. R. Goggin, and the defendant by L. D. Smith of this city and P. H. Martin of Green Bay.

1,000 EXPECTED AT LAST FOOTBALL GAME ON TUESDAY

Students Will Hold "Pep" Parade
Previous to East
DePere Contest

New London—New London high school is all set for its final football game of the season Tuesday to be played here between New London and East De Pere.

So far during the season, New London has played six games, winning two shutouts, and 20-14 score, and being beaten by one shutout and two close scores. The Red and White team started out well in the beginning of the season, but seemed to slump toward the last. However, in the last game, with Menasha on Tuesday Nov. 4, the Red and White played good football and threatened to beat Menasha in the last five minutes of play. This is taken as a good sign that New London will come back strong in the final effort against East De Pere.

East De Pere is considered inferior to the strong West De Pere eleven, which New London walloped three weeks ago by a score of 20 to 14. Nevertheless, East De Pere has been coming along splendidly this season, having beaten Menasha early in the season by a score of 19 to 10. The East De Pere eleven has a heavy line, and a crack fullback who does most of the scoring for his team. East De Pere also has a backfield who is a 10 second man, having run 100 yards in 10 seconds.

There will be several more important changes in the Red and White lineup. Charlesworth, who has not been playing much in the last two games, will start at quarterback, in place of Lowell, who has played that position very capably during the season. However, Lowell is a fast man, and will be shifted to right halfback. Coach Koten thinks that New London could have won the Menasha game providing it had started the season, which gained New London's touchdown, in the beginning of the game, instead of resorting to the last quarter to open up with the aerial stuff. Tuesday's game will probably be replete with passes and end runs.

The school plans to hold a huge parade through the city streets Tuesday, containing large floats and placards, with numerous clowns, fun-makers and cheerleaders. They intend to liven the town up and get every body out to see the football exhibition. One-thousand people are expected at the grounds, at 2:30, when the whistle blows.

New London—The three local high school musical organizations, the orchestra, band and glee club, are improving rapidly under their director Alfred Schuman and Miss Dorothea Ramsay.

Mr. Schuman has made arrangements with the Clintonville high school orchestra to give a joint recital in Clintonville during the latter part of this month. Proceeds will go towards filling the coffers of the schools. The local orchestra will probably be accompanied by the Glee club, under the direction of Miss Ramsay. Then, in the early part of December, the Clintonville orchestra will journey to New London to put on a similar demonstration.

The high school band, which is also under the direction of Mr. Schuman, is making rapid progress. Not one of the students was able to read notes before school opened this fall, and there are now 15 members in the organization who can play good music. There are also 25 more members who are rapidly learning, and eager to join the band.

The organization has made several public appearances and will play a number of marches at the Armistice day football game next Tuesday, Nov. 11, between New London and East DePere in this city.

Students Will Hold "Pep" Parade
Previous to East
DePere Contest

New London—New London high school is all set for its final football game of the season Tuesday to be played here between New London and East De Pere.

So far during the season, New London has played six games, winning two shutouts, and 20-14 score, and being beaten by one shutout and two close scores. The Red and White team started out well in the beginning of the season, but seemed to slump toward the last. However, in the last game, with Menasha on Tuesday Nov. 4, the Red and White played good football and threatened to beat Menasha in the last five minutes of play. This is taken as a good sign that New London will come back strong in the final effort against East De Pere.

East De Pere is considered inferior to the strong West De Pere eleven, which New London walloped three weeks ago by a score of 20 to 14. Nevertheless, East De Pere has been coming along splendidly this season, having beaten Menasha early in the season by a score of 19 to 10. The East De Pere eleven has a heavy line, and a crack fullback who does most of the scoring for his team. East De Pere also has a backfield who is a 10 second man, having run 100 yards in 10 seconds.

There will be several more important changes in the Red and White lineup. Charlesworth, who has not been playing much in the last two games, will start at quarterback, in place of Lowell, who has played that position very capably during the season. However, Lowell is a fast man, and will be shifted to right halfback. Coach Koten thinks that New London could have won the Menasha game providing it had started the season, which gained New London's touchdown, in the beginning of the game, instead of resorting to the last quarter to open up with the aerial stuff. Tuesday's game will probably be replete with passes and end runs.

The school plans to hold a huge parade through the city streets Tuesday, containing large floats and placards, with numerous clowns, fun-makers and cheerleaders. They intend to liven the town up and get every body out to see the football exhibition. One-thousand people are expected at the grounds, at 2:30, when the whistle blows.

JOIN CLINTONVILLE IN RECITAL PLANS

Orchestras and Glee Club of High Schools Will Put on Demonstration

New London—The three local high school musical organizations, the orchestra, band and glee club, are improving rapidly under their director Alfred Schuman and Miss Dorothea Ramsay.

Mr. Schuman has made arrangements with the Clintonville high school orchestra to give a joint recital in Clintonville during the latter part of this month. Proceeds will go towards filling the coffers of the schools. The local orchestra will probably be accompanied by the Glee club, under the direction of Miss Ramsay. Then, in the early part of December, the Clintonville orchestra will journey to New London to put on a similar demonstration.

The high school band, which is also under the direction of Mr. Schuman, is making rapid progress. Not one of the students was able to read notes before school opened this fall, and there are now 15 members in the organization who can play good music. There are also 25 more members who are rapidly learning, and eager to join the band.

The organization has made several public appearances and will play a number of marches at the Armistice day football game next Tuesday, Nov. 11, between New London and East DePere in this city.

This new way works wonders on cloudy teeth

Modern science, by perfecting a new way of combating the stubborn film that covers teeth, now opens the road to whiter teeth, safely.

THAT cloudy teeth, yellow-ish, discolored teeth can be made whiter is now an accepted fact. Foremost dentists of the world are widely urging this new method. You can have cleaner, prettier teeth if you will start today.

This is accomplished by com-bating a viscous film that covers teeth. A stubborn, hard to re-move film that old type den-tifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel this film. Under it are the clear, attractive teeth you envy in others. Com-bat it, and your teeth become many shades whiter—more glist-ening. This offers you a 10-day test free. Mail the coupon.

The great enemy of teeth
Film is the great enemy of teeth beauty. And a chief cause, ac-cording to world's dental au-thorities, of most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crev-ices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the common cause of pyorrhea. It holds food in con-tact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film.

Ask your druggist or mail the coupon for Pepsodent. Don't ex-pect the same results from old time dentifrices. Begin beautify-ing your teeth today.

Keep the young folks at home

Right at home you can give your young people the best dance music in the world. Vincent Lopez himself—or a dozen others—will play for them!

When you have an Ampico in your home, a lot of the lure of going out is over.

Glorious rhythm that snaps even the old folks out of their chairs. Irresistible jazz that brings the neighbors in and makes your home a meeting-place for all. This great happiness is yours when you have the Ampico.

Then when your mood is more serious, such famous masters as Rachmaninoff, Lhévinne, Schnitzer, Phillip Gordon, and many others will play to you. And so wonderfully does the Ampico re-enact their interpretations of the most glorious music written for the piano, that you cannot detect a shade of difference when you hear them in person on the concert stage.

The Ampico may be had in the Chickering, which for over a hundred years has been singing its way into the heart of each successive generation. A piano that is justly famous for its supreme artistic eloquence.

The Ampico may also be heard at our store in other fine pianos at lower prices, including the Haines Bros. and the Marshall & Wendell.

Generous allowance for your own piano and agreeable terms for remaining payments may be arranged. Prices range from $985 to $5000. A foot-power model at $795.

PIANOS OF ALL PRICES—EACH PRE-EMINENT IN ITS CLASS

YOU have noticed of late that our new store on the Corner of ONEIDA and COLLEGE AVENUE is taking the form of a fine modern music store, which when completed in a few weeks, will be the Finest in Wisconsin.

THIS Store is intended as a place of service to all who love music, people of every degree of income will find here pianos suited to their means. Each instrument has been chosen as pre-eminent in its class.

THE Piano Room is Decorated in a pleasing color scheme,—at the head of this room is a decoration of the Imperial Cross of the Legion of Honor, the unique distinction conferred by Emperor Napoleon III, because of the supreme excellence of the Chickering Piano. This insignia stands out even among the other hundred and fifty honors bestowed by states and sovereigns during the full century of Chickering achievement.

THE Phonograph Room is as large as our entire former store—We have a large room for Band and small Instruments.

EVERY Saturday our Recital Hall will be open for Free Musicals.

ALL of the draperies and arrangement of the interior was planned by us to conform with the high standard of our trade and we want everybody to attend our Formal Opening—the date of which will be announced later—and see The House Where Music Is.

YOUNG FOLKS HEAR OF CRYING NEED FOR CHURCH EDUCATION

World Needs More Training in Religious Ideals, Speakers Declare

The church must become the trainer of the boys and girls of this country, emphasized the Rev. R. A. "Dad" Waite of Evanston, Ill., first speaker at the final meeting of the Wisconsin Young Peoples conference, Sunday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel.

He said there are three methods of imparting knowledge: telling, teaching and training, and of these training is by far the greatest. Telling merely sends the message "in one ear and out of the other" and does not leave a lasting impression. Much of teaching is force-pump driving in of facts. Real teaching is the releasing of the inner forces that they may express themselves according to their capacity, according to Rev. Mr. Waite.

DON'T GET MEANING

The typical American boy or girl does not understand adult religious words and phrases, so that teaching does not give the pupils what the teachers would like to have them get. Most boys and girls are not able to give definite meanings for words commonly used in church or Sunday school work such as "hallowed" and "faith." They do not get the idea, because they do not give the same meaning to the great religious words and phrases that adults do. Therefore thorough training is the only method to educate the boys and girls of this country, said Mr. Waite.

It is no longer "trainers for brawn and tutors for brain," Mr. Waite said. Trainers are needed in the great field of character formation. A star sprinter or in his training estimated that he had run 10 yards more than 10,000 times. Think of the value in the value in the training if people gave silent prayers of 10 words that number of times or could talk for 10 minutes at a time with 10,000 of the world's deepest thinkers. Jesus could easily be called a trainer and not a teacher.

Mr. Waite ended his talk with a strong plea for the churches to become trainers, not merely tellers and teachers, in the field of religious education for boys and girls of America.

Democracy depends both on intelligence and righteousness and it is the task of the church to Christianize what the public school is seeking to intellectualize, Dr. M. A. Honline of Pasadena, Calif., said in his address on "The Church and Her Children." Science made the world one vast neighborhood and it is the business of the church to transfer this one vast neighborhood into universal brotherhood, he declared. One cannot live alone any longer, because the world has too many common interests. But events of the last few years show that as yet universal brotherhood is a failure. There is too much individual righteousness at the present time, according to Dr. Honline.

A much-used expression used by the late Woodrow Wilson was to make the world safe for democracy. But we must also make democracy safe for America and the world and the only way to accomplish this is by intelligence and righteousness. Intelligence alone is not enough. We must have the refining influence of religion also to have a good democracy, said Dr. Honline.

UP TO CHURCHES

Colleges and universities of the country are crowded to the doors by young people seeking training to meet the problems of the day while seven of every ten boys and girls of America between the ages of five and twenty-five, whether Protestant, Catholic or Jew have no religious education of any kind. This is a very bad situation for the country and it is the task of the church alone to remedy this. It must be done and it the church does not do it, it never will be done, according to Dr. Honline.

He said that the war had put the world in a serious position and religious education can pull it out. There is a feeling in this country that the church is not what it ought to be. Articles in the leading magazines and books on the subject point this out clearly. Therefore it is the business of the church not to get young folks to attend, but to get church members

AIRPLANE TO DROP FOOTBALL ON FIELD

Lawrence Students Preparing for Homecoming Celebration This Weekend

A football, dropped from the air, will be used in the Lawrence-Hamline football game, which will be the feature of Lawrence college's annual homecoming on Nov. 14 and 15. The homecoming committee is arranging to have an airplane sail over the field and drop the ball just before the kick-off.

Prizes of all sorts will be offered, including a huge tin cup for the most antiquated and battered flannel owned by fraternity or student. Other prizes have been donated by Thiede Good Clothes, Snider's restaurant and Basing Sport shop for the best decorated fraternity house, sorority rooms and floats. Fraternities and sororities on the campus are cooperating with the committees in promoting the event.

Main hall will be decorated in blue and white and the dome is to be illuminated by searchlights. The grandstand at the athletic field will be elaborately decorated the day of the game.

A banquet will be given after the game at Brokaw hall for all football "L" men, graduate "L" men, members of the athletic board and members of the Hamline football team.

A dance will be given in Armory G by the alumni of Lawrence college on Saturday night, following the game.

to live a Christian life outside of the church throughout the world.

The schools are giving us intelligence and we must look to the church for instructions in righteousness. We are greatly advanced in intelligence but the same is not true of righteousness. It is up to the church alone to put this across, Rev. Honline said.

If the state goes 100 per cent on education, the church must keep up. There is much more spent for school education than for religious education. This should not be the case. The church must work for formation and not reformation, not let sectarian quarrels take the place of community interests and must take its educational task seriously, according to Dr. Honline.

Dr. Honline said that neither church nor Sunday school alone could carry on the work but by cooperation it could be done. He complained that they are not open often enough and that the teaching intervals are too far removed. A class that meets once a week is a failure unless there is intensive study between classes. Religious instructions must become a weekday activity rather than only 30 minutes on Sunday. One to five hours a week of definite specific study should be given to all boys and girls.

Dr. Honline closed his talk with the statement that we should have a system of religious schools for all children of all peoples and that Wisconsin should have an educational secretary who would be paid to devote all his time to weekday, vacation and community religious schools.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and rapid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c. adv.

Fixing of Tax Levy and Appointment of Officers is Principal Business

The county finance committee met in the courthouse Friday to examine accounts receivable in preparation for the annual meeting of the county board of supervisors.

Weighty business will be brought before the board of supervisors which will convene at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for a two weeks' session. Not only will the annual reports of various county officers and institutions be submitted, but a number of appointive officers will be chosen.

The board will elect a county highway commissioner and one member on each of the boards of the following institutions: County asylum, River-view sanatorium and the Outagamie Rural Normal school. The county auditors for the ensuing year will be chosen and a county highway committee must be appointed at this time. The most important business of the

DELEGATES WIND UP MEETING WITH FUN

Behnke Reports on International Conference in Indianapolis

Saturday evening was Fun Night at the Wisconsin Young Peoples conference, and Lawrence Memorial chapel rang with the sounds and songs of the delegates. Dean Carl Waterman of Lawrence conservatory of music supplied J. L. Rogers, state secretary, with people from the conservatory who put on a program for the convention. The numbers included a reading, "Jane," by Miss Arla Bell; vocal selection, by Marshal Hulbert; accompanied by Mrs. L. A. Bretham; and a violin solo by Wenzel Albrecht, accompanied by Lavaghu Maesselt. Winnebago-co delegates put on a mock wedding, in which gum chewing played an important part, and the Geneva delegates presented scenes from a typical day at camp on Lake Geneva. Setting-up drill, class recitation, hilltop service, and council circle were the four scenes depicted, and they symbolized the four-fold life in its physical, social, religious, and mental phases, which the conference has made its ideal.

Alden Behnke gave a report of the Indianapolis international conference which he attended as a delegate. He stated that the purpose of the student volunteer movement was the "Evangelization of the world in this generation", and the four ways by which it was striven for is through missionary education, recruiting of candidates for the missionary field, study of world problems and promotion of world fellowship and brotherhood. Six thousand persons from countries all over the civilized world attended the conference, and were trying to deal with three great problems of missionary education, racial difficulties and war prevention.

The catacombs at Rome will be illuminated during the holy year celebration next year for the benefit of the visiting pilgrims.

IRVING ZUELL

"I'm not married to Bob. I'm married to Henry Williams"

Dad Morgan, who was leaning against the fence a few yards distant, removed his pipe from his mouth and examined the situation with interest.

"I see you made good time gettin' back," he remarked.

"Dad," cried Sally, "Wreck's lowdy, Wreck!"

He stroked near for a better look at the flivver. One of the wheels was crumpled, both mudguards were curled up, the wind-shield was gone and there was a rivulet of steaming brown water dripping from the radiator.

"I reckon," said Dad, "that her newwaz system is kind of shot up."

"Oh, Dad!"

Sally leaped clear of the wreckage and had her arms around his neck.

"Git the trousseau?" he asked, when she let go of him.

"Trousseau?" cried Sally. "Why, I—'m married!"

"Well, I'll be durned!"

"Where's Ma? I want to tel' her!"

"Well, I'll be durned," repeated Dad. "Your Ma's over to the house, I reckon. Where's Bob?"

Sally began to laugh.

Dad Morgan's glance wandered to the Wreck, who was still sitting in the flivver, gloomily surveying his work.

"Now I will be durned," he said, thoughtfully. "Come to think of it, I reckon I'll be damned."

"You'd better be nice to him," warned Sally, a whisper. "He's the dearest thing in the world."

She raced away in the direction of the house, where the slight figure of Ma Morgan stood framed in the kitchen doorway.

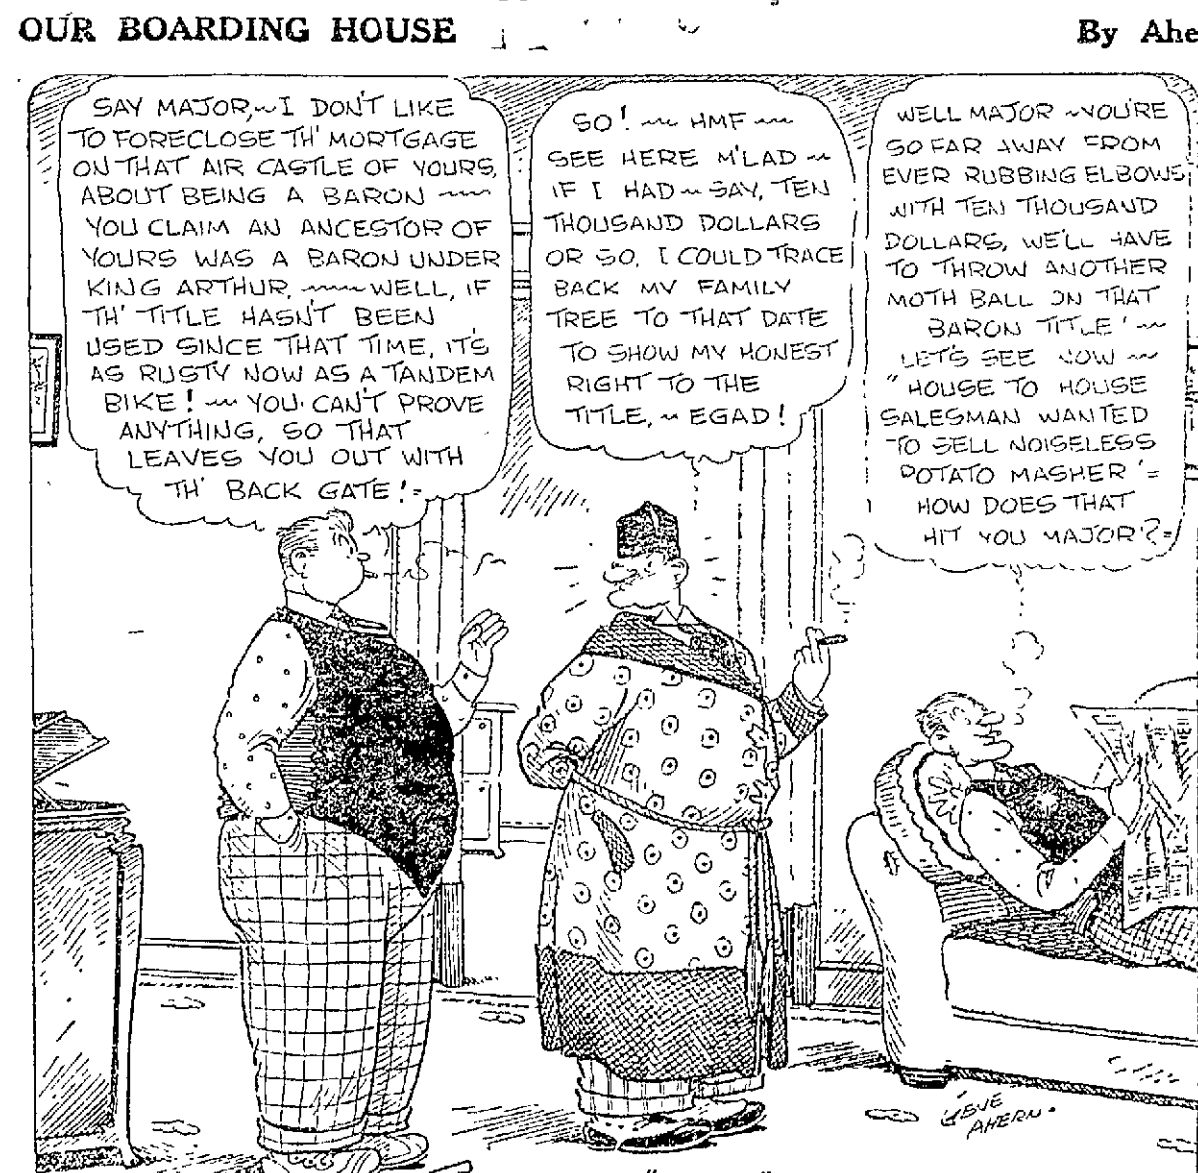

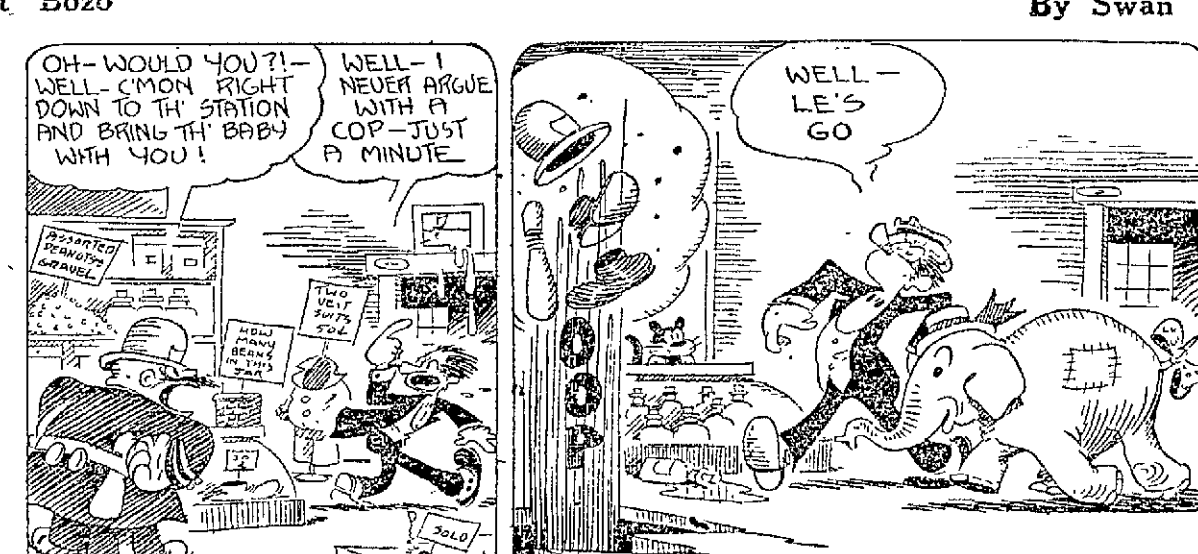

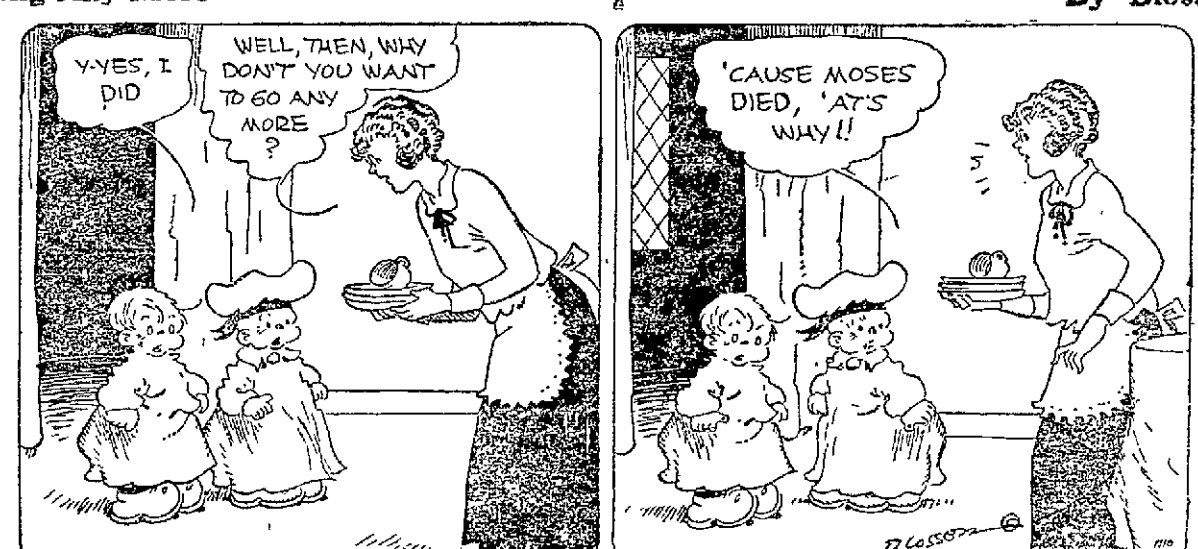

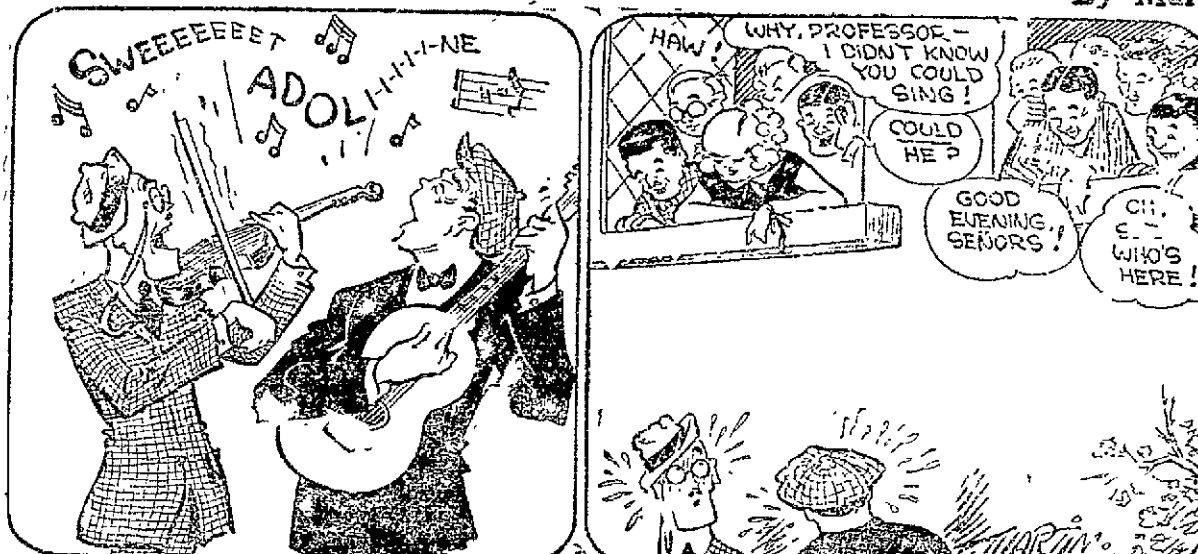

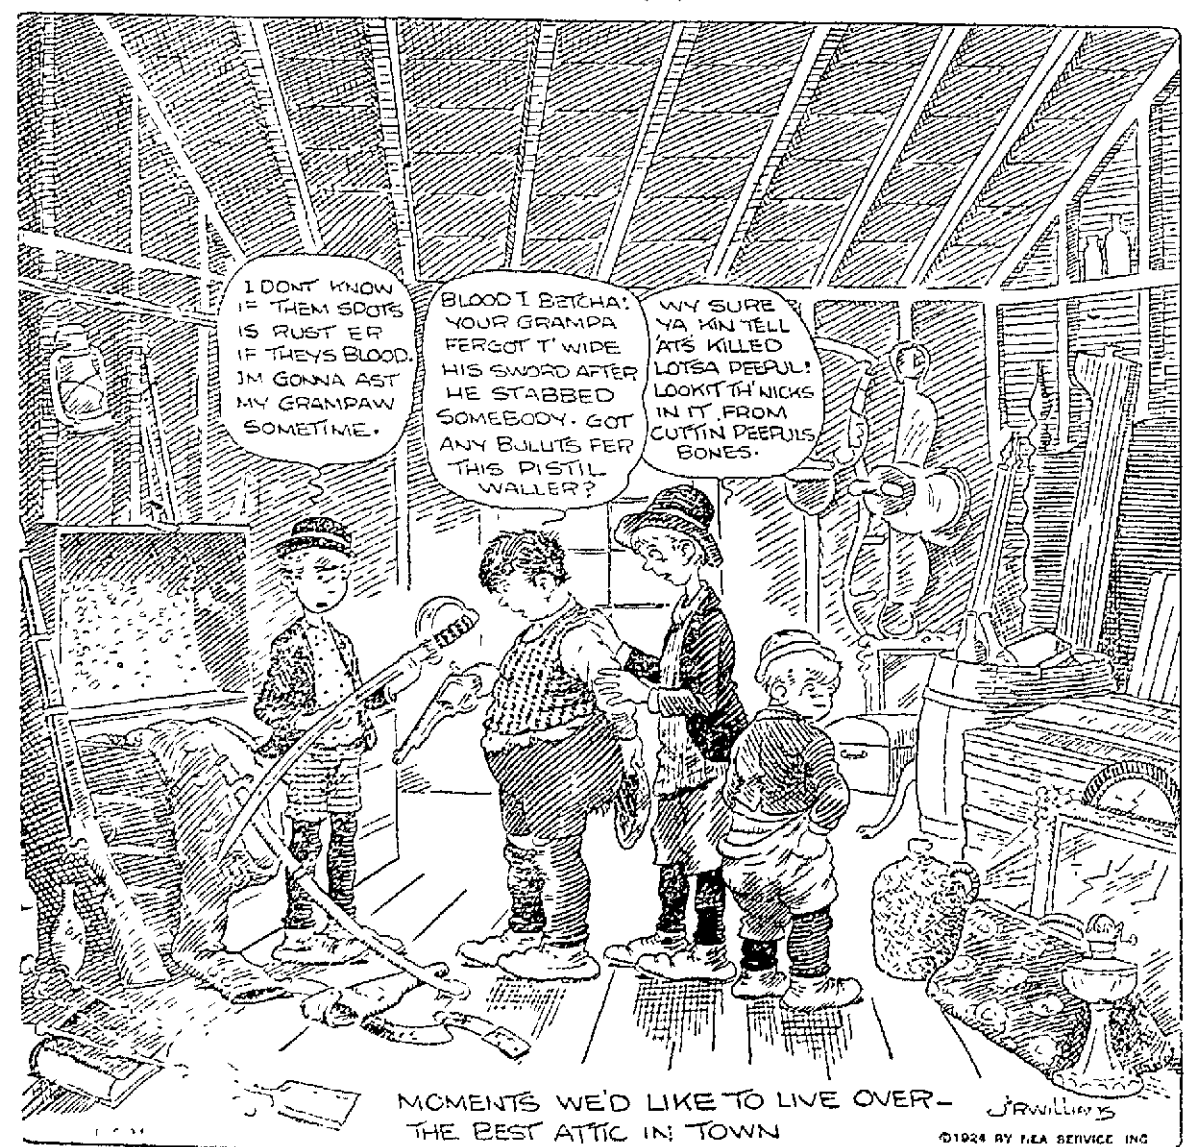

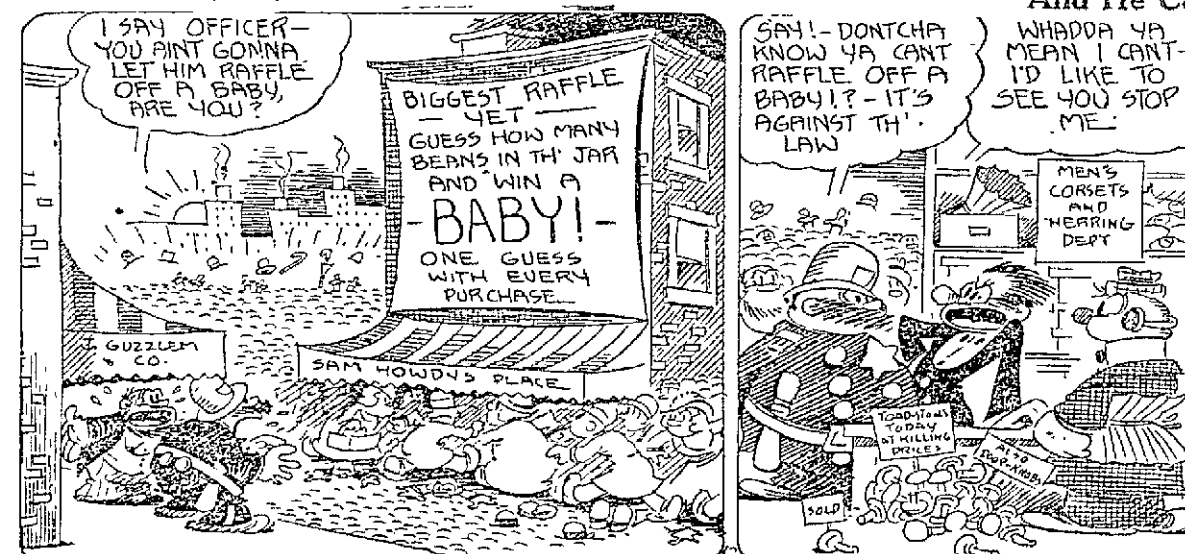

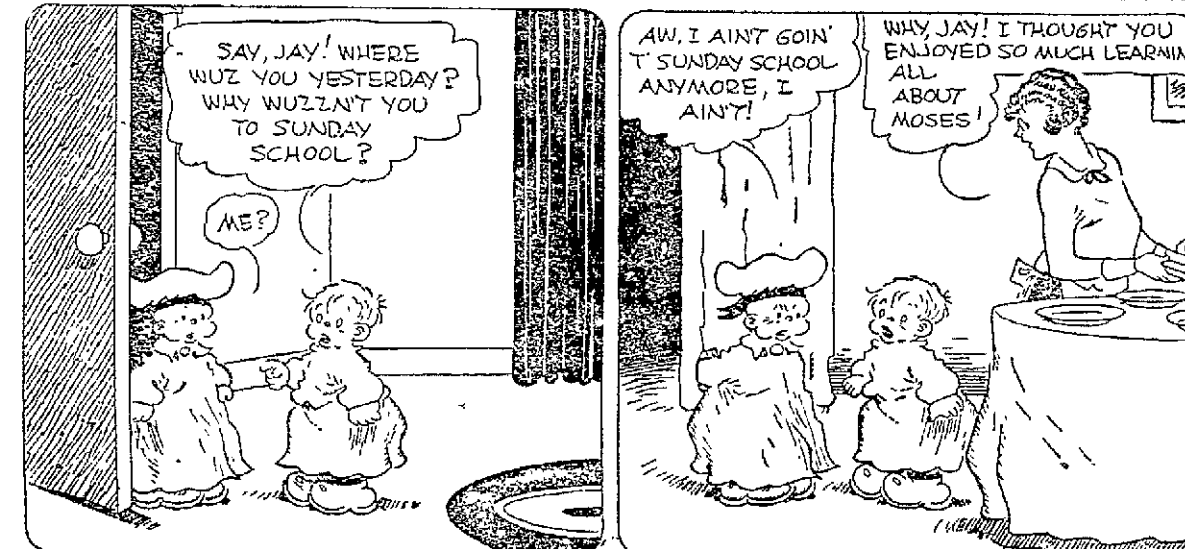

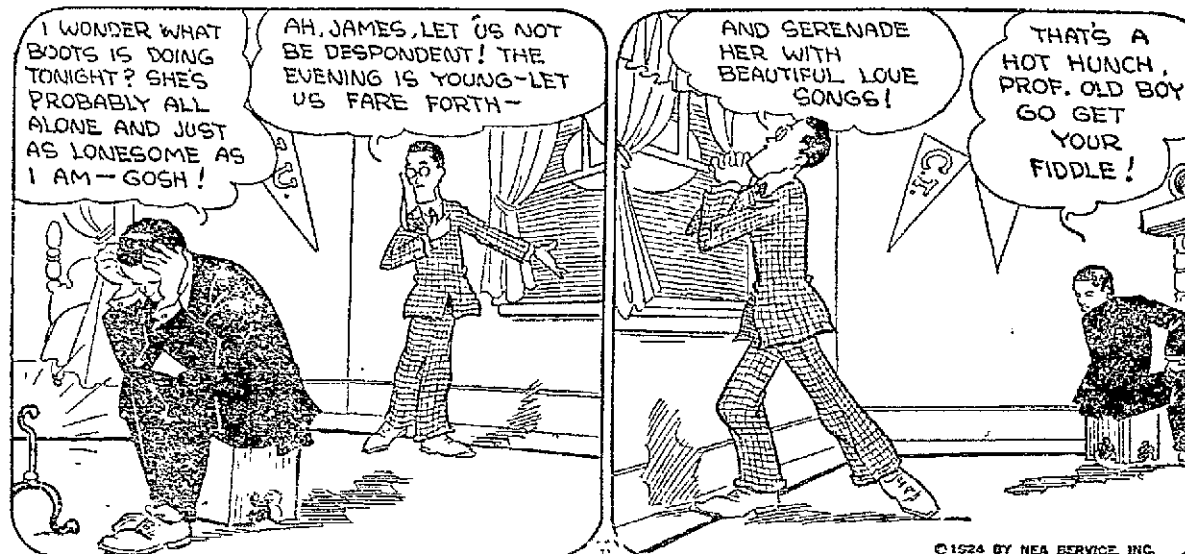

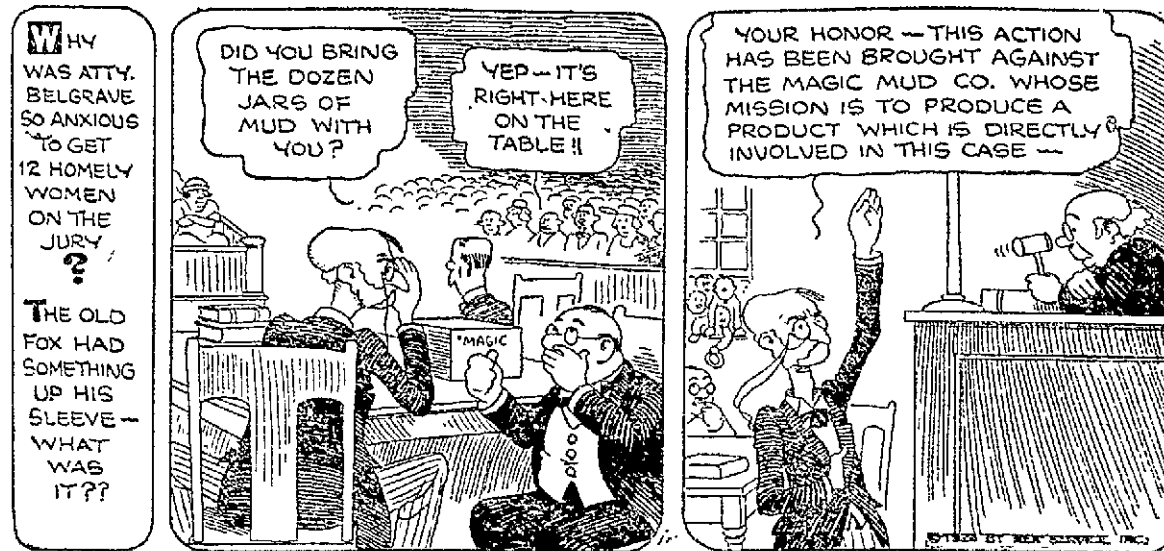

Dad vaulted her go. Well, women were queer folks. But if Sally said so at all night, that settled it. Marriage it was! The Wreck was his son-in-law. Fair enough, he mused. Sally always insisted the Wreck was game. His own course of conduct was clear.

"Wreck," he said, "providin' it ain't necessary for you to sit there waitin' the remains, there's a bottle up at the house."

"Sure," said the Wreck, as he climbed away. "Only don't grin at me, Heavens! Don't grin! It makes me nervous."

Tables Show Averages In Height Scale

"My goodness, it seems like the children grow an inch a day," Mr. Alden would say as he returned from work and looked over his little brood. Many children seem to grow too fast and come to spout up all too soon. Experts have worked out tables showing the sizes children should have attained at certain years and these are interesting to all parents.

Between the ages 6 and 11 children should grow about two inches a year. Between 12 and 17 normal growth is not more than two inches a year.

Girls who will be short of stature grow three inches between 12 and 13, short boys do not exceed a growth of two inches a year and medium sized boys grow three inches between 12 and 14, tall boys grow three inches a year between 13 and 14 and 15.

At the age of 15, stature ranging from 5'0" to 6'0" is about in this order:

Short: 58 inches, medium 60 inches, tall 62 inches.

Girls: Short: 56 inches, medium 58 inches, tall 60 inches.

TELEPHONE FIRST

Cost Of Courting Is Enough To Scare Beau

MAY ALLISON

New York—Courting the girl of your dreams comes high today. This increase is being felt throughout the country—from Main Street to Broadway.

Incidentally, it costs at least $35.00 for a Broadway evening. It used to cost $5.00.

A neighborhood evening costs at least $5.50. One dollar would have been sufficient 25 years ago.

"It costs a king's ransom to court a girl in modern style," explained May Allison, who was asked what was necessary to obtain a girl for an evening in these whizzing 20th Century times.

"A young gentleman who asks a young lady to spend the evening with him can forget about his financial plight only if he has $50 tucked away in his wallet."

"The least expensive evening I can imagine costs $35.00. Usually it will cost more. There is $12 for dinner at one of the proper eating places at least $5.00 for theatre tickets with concert charges of $4 it is impossible to escape from a supper club after the theatre, for less than $10 and it usually is safe to estimate $5 to $10 in some form or other."

"And that would not be called a riotous evening by many girls of today. One hundred dollars would cover many a party."

Miss Allison neither drinks nor smokes. It may be said in justice to her.

That is a Broadway evening. Girls expect such whirls each week. Many of them every night. To court such a girl on the conventional three evenings a week it would cost $110.

A business girl living 40 minutes from Times Square was asked how much it cost a young man to entertain her for an evening.

"The cheapest would be," she said after contemplation, "$3 for a table d'hôte dinner, $1 for a movie, 50 cents for a cream and probably $1.50 taxi fare."

That totals $5.50.

"But," she quickly added, "I wouldn't tolerate him long if that was the procedure every time he sees me. I want to go to a roadhouse."

DREAMS Each Has Its Own Meaning

Modern science supports views that in the dream-state of mind a person is enabled to do things impossible in the waking state.

Have you ever heard the saying "I will sleep over it?"

Of course you have, for many have found they have been able to iron out their problems by lapsing into slumber. And there are those who will go further—they will tell you that during their slumbers the answers to their problems have come to them.

Writers and mathematicians have been aided by the power of dreams on many occasions.

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, from the pen of R. L. Stevenson, came from the author's dreams. John Bunyan acknowledged the inspiration of dreams over his work, and his famous "Pilgrim's Progress," woven from sleep visions, have helped many other pilgrims through life's journey.

Sleep affords the inner mind an opportunity to express itself. Inspiration and ambition are often aroused. Artistic creation—the work of the musician or painter—are given stimulant.

Cabane's great philosopher found aid by leaving his difficult problems to his dream power. He found that the subconscious mind worked like lightning in a dream, and on awakening never failed to find the particular task had been completed.

Experiments of scientists into dream powers have led to the belief that before sleeping the mind should be cleared of all out the problem or a general idea of what one desires to create.

Then upon awakening in the morning if problem has not been presented in a dream a moment of thought upon the subject may bring the inspiration which will lead to a solution.

Notre Dame Swamps Badgers, 38 To 3, In Onesided Grid Game

Wisconsin Outplays Irishmen's Second String In First Period but Collapses Before Regulars

Randall Field, Madison — Notre Dame overwhelmed Wisconsin here Saturday, defeating the Badgers 38 to 3 in a game marred by the flashy forward passing of the Rockne team and the steady running of D. Miller. Layden and Crowley, Wisconsin held a second string to standstill in the first period when the Badgers threatened to score. Rockne sent in his first team and the best the Badgers could do was place a kick. Notre Dame gained at will through the Wisconsin line around ends and by the aerial game. At no time after the first period did Wisconsin have an opportunity to score. It was the first defeat handed Wisconsin by Notre Dame in five attempts.

The Wisconsin squad came on the field at 1:35 and limbered up followed by the Notre Dame squad at 1:40. Both teams went back to the sheds, returning again at 1:55. Capt. Harris of Wisconsin won the toss and chose to receive at the south goal.

At the last minute coach Rockne sent in an entirely second team.

Connell kicked off for Notre Dame over the goal line Wisconsin taking the ball on her own 20-yard line. D. Harmon failed to gain at left end and Barnum made a yard on the right side and L. Harmon punted to the Notre Dame 35-yard line where Connell was downed in his tracks. Edwards went through the right side for 11 yards and first down on the play. Edwards made another seven yards on the right side. Time out for Wis.

Cerney added two more yards through center. Cerney punted 35 yards, the ball rolling out of bounds on Wisconsin's 15-yard line. Wisconsin's ball on her own 15-yard line. The ball was given to Notre Dame on the kick. Notre Dame's ball on Wisconsin's 15-yard line. Edwards failed to gain through center. Cerney made two yards on two line bucks. Cerney made a pretty place kick from the Wisconsin 12-yard line. Score, Notre Dame 3, Wisconsin 0.

Harris kicked off to Edwards on the Notre Dame 5-yard line. Edwards returning the ball to the 25-yard line O'Boyle bucked line for three yards. Edwards made two more through center. ILLINOIS STILL IS FAVORITE IN WESTERN WHEEL

Three Upsets Feature Big Ten Football Menu Over Week End

Chicago—Western conference campus fan and expert still were agog Monday over the amazing upset of predictions brought about Saturday when the University of Chicago tied the University of Illinois, 21 to 21, and thereby blotted the escutcheon at the door of hope through which the Illini had been peering at an untested claim for Big Ten and possibly national football honors. A. A. Stange, aged Chicago mentor, proclaimed the greatest of all defensive coaches, resorted to a battering ram offensive rather than a complicated defense against the almost incomparable "Red" Grange and the other sterling Illinois backfield men. Using three powerful fullbacks in turn, mixing their unstopable dashes through the line with plunges by Harry Thomas, who is bidding for a place in the foot ball hall of fame alongside that of his famous brother, all-American John, the Maroons swept down the field in short lunges. Only occasionally was there an end run or forward pass.

Offsetting the breath-taking smashers of the Chicago team, Grange was put to his best efforts to keep Illinois at the top of the heap in the conference scramble for honors. He was almost perfect in his work, running the ends brilliantly and getting from five to eight yards nearly every time he had the ball, and hurling passes with precision. He scored all three Illini touchdowns and played a remarkable game as "safest" man.

But slightly less startling than the Chicago upset was the defeat of Ohio State by Indiana. Notre had expected a Hoosier win after the defeats by Chicago and Northwestern. In gain the 12 to 7 victory, Indiana did played diving and versatile offensive. The third upset was noted when Ames of the Missouri Valley conference held Minnesota of the Big Ten to a 7 to 7 tie.

That failure to win placed Minnesota to definitely alongside Iowa in the category of "weak teams" of the Western conference. Iowa won 28 to 0 over the Hawkeyes, but was hard put to eke out a 7 to 0 victory over Butler.

Michigan smothered Northwestern 21 to 0, simply outclassing the Cat eleven. The wrecked Wisconsin eleven fell easy victim of Knute Rockne's Notre Dame thunderbolts, the South Bend team using substitutes during the last two periods.

The net of the day's play was that Illinois remained in favorite position for attaining the conference championship. Two teams, Minnesota and Ohio State, remain to be played, but the Illini are favored to win in each instance. That would give Illinois a string of four victories and a tie.

Chicago, in closest pursuit, is undefeated, but the Illinois tie is its record. Ohio State previously having held the Maroons even. Chicago has yet to meet Northwestern and Wisconsin.

WISCONSIN POINTS FOR IOWA CONTEST AFTER BAD BEATING

Notre Dame's Easy Victory Showed Badgers Unable to Stand Up Under Storm

Madison—After receiving one of the most severe beatings it has taken in years, at the hands of Notre Dame, Saturday, Wisconsin's football team Monday began taking stock of the remaining two conference games of the season. The Notre Dame tilt was a severe test for the local eleven, under which Ryan's machine proved unable to hold up.

With one conference defeat and one tie to their backs, the Badgers Monday took up the task of preparing for Iowa here next Saturday in the annual homecoming affair. With Chicago following Iowa, Ryan will push his men hard the remaining days of the season in an effort to finish what is now considered an unsuccessful season. A win, either from Iowa or Chicago, would put Wisconsin stock in better class and followers would forget the unfavorable showing made on several occasions during 1924.

Observers of Ryan's work expect that the Badger coach will hold much of the same lineup he worked against Notre Dame for the remainder of the season. The machine worked comparatively well, but Wisconsin was outclassed and outplayed by what is recognized as one of the superior elevens of the country.

One of the best features of the Wisconsin playing Saturday was the playing of Capt. Jack Harris at tackle. Harris slipped through the line on numerous occasions and threw off his opponents for losses. He was on the receiving end of one or two excellent passes and at one time threatened to get away for a touchdown. The Badger captain filled his new berth well, in the opinion of followers of the team.

PACKERS SHUT OUT PRO LEADERS, 13-0

"Cub" Buck Stars in Punting Duel, and Passing Attack Wins Tilt

Green Bay—The Green Bay Packers smeared up Duluth's clean slate in the national pro league by drowning the Kellys here Sunday afternoon to the tune of 13 to 0. The visitors never had a chance to score. They never were within the Packers' 40 yard line. Three times in the final period, Duluth held the Badger state champions in the shadow of their goal posts.

TWO PASSES SCORE
A pass Lambeau to Voss gave Green Bay its first touchdown in the opening period. Buck kicked the goal. Late in the second period, Lambeau uncorked a thirty-five yard pass to Mathys for another score. The Northwesterners allowed them some yardage but they were helpless when past midfield. Duluth coughed things up considerably in the second half.

BUCK IS STAR
Gilbert was the offensive star for the visitors but he more than made match in the punting duel with Cub Buck, as the big Packer tackle was outdistancing him twenty yards on every exchange. The Duluth game completed the Packers' at home season. The big Bay blues chalked up seven straight victories in their own back yard this fall. The lineup:

TIGER CHEWS CRIMSON FOR 34 TO 0 WIN

Princeton Swamped by Biggest Margin in Recent History of Annual Series

Harvard Stadium, Cambridge, Mass.—A Harvard team that was all set to capture the Princeton Tiger Saturday was chewed to pieces instead. Princeton won, 34 to 0. It was a team of jungle cats that came to the stadium, and scoring four touchdowns with subsequent points and two field goals, sent the Crimson hosts down to the greatest defeat in all recent history of their annual series. It was the greatest margin of victory in the Princeton Tiger games that go back half a century.

APPLETON SQUAD STARTS WORK FOR EAST GREEN BAY

Win Over Conference Leaders Would Give Orange Chance at Title

After battling West Green Bay to a scoreless tie Saturday, Appleton high school gridlers Monday afternoon began a week's heavy drill in preparation for their invasion of East Green Bay where they will meet the Valley conference leaders in their last tilt away from home. The Orange squad came through Saturday's game with a few minor injuries and as nearly as could be learned Monday every man who played against the Purple will be able to start again Saturday.

Both teams were handicapped by the slippery condition of the muddy field, but Appleton outplayed its heavier rivals in every period. The fleet backfielders on the Orange squad found it impossible to get started on their end runs and this gave the invaders an advantage. The Purple line was considerably heavier than the home team's but despite this handicap the Appleton men made ten first downs to two for their opponents. The Baymen held like a stone wall at critical moments, however, and managed to avert disaster time after time.

East Green Bay Friday swamped Oshkosh, 38 to 0, and is reputed to be much stronger than its Purple neighbor, which gives the Orange a strong incentive to work hard in preparation for their meeting. Furthermore, if Appleton can defeat the conference leaders its chances to cop the title will be doubled, and that is what the Orangemen plan to do.

Paris—The New York Giants defeated the Chicago White Sox, 1 to 0. The spectators were puzzled over the intricacies of the pastime.

Indianapolis—Owne Bush has accepted terms to manage the Indianapolis-American association baseball club again next season.

PLACE KICK WINS FOR QUACKERS, 3-0

By Associated Press
Philadelphia, Pa.—Pennsylvania defeated Georgetown, 3 to 0, on Franklin field Saturday in a hard and well played ball game. The lone score, a placement goal by Kruz, came in the final period after Pennsylvania had repeatedly attacked the Georgetown goal line without result. Pennsylvania outplayed the Georgetown team but did not appear to have the punch to make a touchdown. Previous to his successful attempt Kruz tried four times for placement goals.

West Green Bay Holds Appleton High To 0-0 Tie In Saturday Tilt

Orange Gridders Outplay Invaders During Most of Game but Are Unable to Cross Line

Although completely outplaying the husky West Green Bay footballers, Appleton high school lacked the punch to drive the ball over for a win, and the most it could do was hold its opponents to a scoreless tie Saturday on Lawrence field.

Playing on a slippery field, both teams were retarded in speed and therefore had to resort to straight football. Although the Bay men opened up in the second half they were able to complete only one of the six passes attempted, and one of them fell into the hands of Reetz, Appleton halfback. Bowiby and Courtney completed a beautiful pass that netted the team 20 yards near the end of the game.

The Appleton eleven showed itself the superior of the Green Bay team in ground gaining and on defensive. The Orange made ten first downs against West Green Bay's three. The feature of the game was the series of line plunges by Wenzel, Appleton fullback, who went through repeatedly for five yard gains and once advancing the ball ten yards. Bowiby, the Orange flashy quarterback, although frequently skirting around ends for substantial gains could not get started and several times slipped in the mud.

Appleton was weak in grabbing off punts, and this factor was largely responsible for the team's inability to score. They spoiled an excellent chance for a touchdown when they blocked a Green Bay punt on the latter's 20-yard line but lost the ball on the fumble. Bleier, Ashman and Steenis frequently broke through the Green Bay line to tackle the slow backs for losses of three to five yards. The visiting team took all the penalties, and one of them was for slugging. There were no substitutions on either side. Steenis, the plucky Orange tackle, though almost knocked senseless in the last period, kept on playing to the end.

FIRST QUARTER
Hanson kicked off to Appleton's 10-yard line and Hieble returned the ball 10 yards. After Appleton had lost three yards on the next play when Reetz slipped and fell, Hieble broke through left guard for a 2-yard gain and Green Bay was penalized 5 yards for offside. Hieble ran around left end for 5 yards but slipped and was tackled before he could recover his feet.

Reetz gained 2 yards through center and Courtney punted to Green Bay's 15-yard line. Ketchum returned 10 yards and on the next play made 6 yards around right end. After failing to gain on the next play Hanson punted to the Orange 40-yard line where a Green Bay man fell on the ball. Wenzel found an opening off center for a 2-yard gain and Hieble repeated for 6 yards.

Reetz attempted to run around right end but was unable to get a start in the soft ground, and after Wenzel had gained 2 yards through center Courtney punted to the West Green Bay 25-yard line, where the Purple was penalized 15 yards. Burnett lost slightly on a fake pass play and Hanson punted to his own 45-yard line.

Reetz made 2 yards through center and Wenzel's gains off tackle made first down for Appleton. Reetz was unable to gain on end runs and Wenzel was given the ball several times in succession for repeated gains on line bucks, which brought the ball to West Green Bay's 22-yard line. Hieble made 2 yards around end, but Appleton failed to make downs and it was Green Bay's ball on the Purple 22-yard line.

Hieble tackled a Purple backfield man for a 5-yard loss on the next play and Hanson punted to his own 47-yard line. Hieble fumbled a pass but recovered the ball and Reetz broke through center for a 2-yard gain. Courtney attempted a long pass to Hieble but the ball was grounded and Courtney punted to West Green Bay's 17-yard line. Steenish threw Ketchum for a 3-yard loss, and Green Bay made one yard around end, after which Hanson punted to Appleton's 35-yard line. Wenzel broke through the center of the Purple for a slight gain, and the quarter ended after Hieble's attempted end run had failed to gain. Score, 0 to 0.

SECOND QUARTER
It was Appleton's ball on its own 45-yard line and Courtney punted to the Purple 20-yard line. Ketchum returned for 5 yards and Burnett made 2 through left guard. Appleton's line was impregnable and Hanson punted, the ball rolling within two feet of the Orange goal line. Courtney punted 28 yards. A Green Bay pass was incomplete although the man on the receiving end had a clear field and got his hands fairly on too ball, and after the Purple had been thrown for another loss Hanson attempted a drop kick from the Appleton 31-yard line but the ball fell short and it was Appleton's ball on its own 20-yard line.

Reetz found an opening off left guard and got through for a 4-yard gain, and after Wenzel had pushed through the line for 2 yards Bowiby ran around left end for a gain of 10 yards. Wenzel gained 13 yards on the next three plays and after Reetz had made a slight gain over right guard Burnett intercepted a pass on the Purple 34-yard line. Ketchum lost 3 on an attempted end and Hanson punted to Appleton's 15-yard line from where Loviby returned for 6 yards.

PURPLE BOWS TO MICHIGAN, 27-0, IN PASSING GAME

Ben Friedman, Wolverine Passing Star, Tosses For Three Touchdowns

Ann Arbor, Mich. — Michigan showed Northwestern a brilliant passing and line smashing attack to win a 27 to 0 victory over the Purple at Perry field Saturday. Ben Friedman, Michigan's new passing star, tossed the ball for three of the Wolverine's four touchdowns. Northwestern's aerial assault, Baker doing the passing, was a failure, and two attempted drop kicks went wild.

Late in the second period Michigan opened a passing attack that produced two touchdowns in quick succession. The first came on a 30-yard toss by Friedman to Rockwell. Two minutes later Friedman stood on the Northwestern 27-yard line and passed to Marion who made third touchdown. Rockwell kicked the added points.

A 25-yard run by Rockwell, quarterback, gave Michigan a 6 to 0 lead over Northwestern in their game. Friedman played under leaden skies at Perry field Saturday. Rockwell was unable to kick the added point. The score came after an exchange of punts had put the ball on the Northwestern 24-yard line.

The Friedman to Rockwell combination gave Michigan another touchdown in the third period after Michigan got the ball by intercepting a Purple pass. Standing near the 47-yard mark, Friedman threw to Rockwell on the 15-yard line. Rockwell carrying the ball the rest of the way and then place kicking the extra point.

Hanson gave Green Bay first down on two successive gains of 5 and 3 yards. After Burnett and Hanson had advanced the ball 8 yards on three plays, Ketchum's 30-yard pass failed and Appleton received the ball on downs on its 30-yard line. Wenzel broke through right tackle for 8 yards. Bowiby added a yard, and Wenzel drove through center for 2 yards and first down. Wenzel went 3 yards over tackle on a fake end run and Reetz went 2 around end. After a 2-yard loss Courtney kicked to Hanson who carried the ball 5 yards to West's 25-yard line.

West failed to gain on two line plays and Bleier blocked Hanson's punt. Noel recovering off West's 25-yard line. Hieble lost 2 yards left end and Wenzel gained through the line. Courtney punted to West's 35-yard line and Noel dropped on the ball. Ketchum lost 2 yards on a wide end run and on the next play Bleier threw him out of bounds on the opposite side of the field on a fake pass.

With about two minutes left to play Green Bay opened up with a dangerous passing attack, the first pass from Ketchum to Rasmussen going 20 yards to the Appleton 44-yard line. After Hanson was stopped at end Rasmussen dropped a 25-yard pass from Ketchum. On the next play Reetz intercepted a long pass from Ketchum on Appleton's 18-yard line. Wenzel went 5 yards through tackle, a 20-yard pass from Courtney grounded and Wenzel broke loose for another 10 yards for first down on Appleton's 28-yard line. East's Attitude Bans Intersectional Games

It is to be regretted there are not more intersectional games in football. Variety adds spice to anything and that goes for a football schedule. Year after year the schedules of many of the leading colleges offer few if any changes.

Various colleges known as traditional foes, whatever that is, are placed regardless of the ability or drawing power of the team. It is a matter of record that the eastern colleges vary their schedule more than that of the west. This is particularly true of the "Big Ten" in the west.

It would be a great thing for the game if there were more intersectional games between the leading schools of the east and west.

ILLINOIS NOTRE DAME
Too bad Illinois, with its great team isn't scheduled to meet a worthy rival from the east. There is always color to such a game and the often lacking in the routine schedules.

Of greater regret is the fact that Notre Dame and Illinois do not play. Coach Rockne of Notre Dame was devious of arranging such a game, realizing its drawing possibilities. It is said that Illinois gave the suggestion much consideration but finally passed it up.

VIEWPOINT IN BIG TEN
Big Ten teams point out that scheduling a game with some strong attraction other than the Western Conference team means they must drop one of their old-time rivals from the "Big Ten." This is not considered advisable in most cases.

The great overhead of the many stadiums, now a part of the college athletic life of many western schools, may ultimately solve the situation. It takes packed houses to keep up the overhead, and to pack the stadiums it is necessary to offer attractions that have a distinct appeal. Something that interests not merely

Groves Better Than Babe Ruth, Says Jack Dunn

By Associated Press
Baltimore—Jack Dunn, owner and manager of the Baltimore Orioles, who sold Babe Ruth and Jack Bentley to the majors, says "Lefty" Groves recently purchased by Connie Mack, is a better pitcher than either of the two.

When Ruth quit pitching, for the outfield, he was the best southpaw in the American League. Jack Bentley is rated one of the best left-handers in the National at present. Both are proteges of Dunn.

Dunn figures that the addition of so great a pitcher as Groves to the

What Industry is Doing for Your Community

The country village becomes a busy city when industries are founded and thrive. Money paid for wages and materials means happy homes, good schools and churches, more and better opportunities for our children and ourselves.

Wisconsin Needs Her Industrial Cities

They furnish home markets for our farmers, employment for our citizens, trade for our merchants. They pay much of the cost of Government, and bring in, according to U. S. Census figures, $1,846,984,000 from the sale of Wisconsin-made products. Sheboygan and Kohler, for instance, make a home and factory community that is a wonderful asset to Wisconsin.

The varied products of its 64 factories are sold throughout the world, more than ninety per cent being shipped out of the state, spreading Wisconsin's fame and bringing millions of dollars into the state.

This community furnishes employment to thousands of men and women. Its population has increased 5,150 in five years. A large percentage of the families own their own homes, bought with money made through the factory-built progress of the community. Practically all of the factories here are home owned and are Wisconsin corporations.

Such a community is a credit to our state and an example for our people. Its prosperity, and that of every other Wisconsin community, can be maintained and increased if our producers, both of farm and factory, are on an equal footing with those of competing states. Every Wisconsin citizen should demand fair laws for Wisconsin industries, to the end that industries may build greater prosperity for the communities of our state. For as industry grows, the community grows and prospers.

POET OF ENGLAND
ENDORSES GIRLS
OF PRESENT ERA

"Nothing but Admiration for Modern Women," Philosopher Says

London—The modern girl, whose ways and influences shock her elders nowadays, has a staunch defender in Edward Carpenter, the poet and philosopher who renounced wealth and position half a century ago to become a socialist pioneer.

Four score years have given Mr. Carpenter ample opportunities for observing the ways of women, and he now celebrates his eightieth birthday with a paean in praise of the girl of the twentieth century. "While I am overwhelmed at the incapacity of the average man, I have nothing but admiration for the modern woman," said Mr. Carpenter. "She is a marvellous product of the age."

"I remember the women of the last generation and their limited lives. Dabbling with water colors, doing a little embroidery, and having no opinions whatever used to be considered not only a suitable, but the only life for a girl in those days, if a girl had opinions on anything she was important in the domestic circle. I was considered a freak by the other girls, and heavily sat on by the married women."

"The war offered the opportunity at the psychological moment for woman to find her freedom. Now all the problems that she has to face arise from the fact that she still is obliged to conform to certain standards that were intended for a totally different creature, the woman of yesterday."

"One of the most striking differences between this generation and the last is the way in which women say what they mean with what used to be masculine directness. They once seemed to make a point of saying what they did not mean. I never knew why this was so."

"Altogether this is a hopeful age. Things are moving in the right direction, towards more freedom and a more sensible outlook. The curse of the age is lack of seriousness. I believe women will do much towards putting the world straight again."

CHILD PLAY POINTS
WAY TO HAPPINESS

More than 400 people saw "Timothy's Quest," the motion picture which featured the evening service at the First Congregational church Sunday. The story was that of a boy brought up in cruel tenement surroundings in New York, and who set out to find a home for a baby girl, and perchance for himself. The softening of hearts of an embittered farmer family results from the quest which places the children in happy rural surroundings.

Dr. H. E. Peabody's 10-minute sermon pointed out the moral of the picture. In that happiness is found in the simplest of places as well as in the great cities and places to which people desire to travel. "Home Sweet Home" was sung to illustrated slides by Dean Carl J. Waterman.

The church expects to show the picture, "The Man Who Played God," next Sunday evening.

The mail of Norman Felzer, is to be addressed to the Green Bay reformatory for the next two and a half years. He was arrested Friday by Officer Carl Radtke for burglary on a charge that he had entered his mother's house in Randall addition, Grand Chute, and stole a suit belonging to his brother. This is the third time he was arrested this year, the first time being on a burglary count, the second on a vagrancy charge. Sentence was pronounced by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Monday after he had reproved the young man for his disinclination to work. Felzer said he never had a chance and that work was not to be had. He is 17 years old.

GERMAN MOTORISTS
TALK BACK TO COPS
ON TRAFFIC DUTY

Pedestrians Pay Little Attention to Traffic Rules in Large Cities

Berlin—Germans are the greatest "jay-walkers" in Europe. Automobiles have been so few in the larger German cities, and for the most part the streets are so broad, that pedestrians have paid little attention to traffic. Accommodating drivers have limited their speed and movements to suit the public, which walked all over the streets.

But the times are changing. With the stabilized mark motor cars are appearing in large numbers, and the German cities have been forced to study methods practiced abroad in controlling traffic. Several police officials have recently returned from the United States and England, where they observed modern methods of control.

Already in Berlin the police have instituted reforms, but as the officers entrusted with traffic control are inexperienced, the first effects have been a decided slowing down of pedestrians and motor traffic on crossings in the central section of the city, and much dissatisfaction.

The control is still in the arguing stage. Motor car drivers argue with the crossing policemen and the policemen talk back, while impatient pedestrians and lines of vehicles await signals to move.

Potsdammer Place, where three important avenues and several minor streets center, is the worst place in Berlin and the chief point upon which control officers are working. There are a number of "islands" in the center of the circle, where pedestrians used to congregate. Those have now been fenced and closed to the public, which is forced to make its way around the sidewalks on the outside of the circle. Platforms have been erected temporarily upon which officers stand and direct the movements of street cars, motor cars and horse-drawn vehicles. One of the chief difficulties in Berlin is the regulation of bicyclists, who are very numerous. Bicyclists at first regarded themselves as being exempt from the regulations, and dodged about at will until wholesale arrests were made.

"Hard-boiled" traffic officers of the type seen in America seem to be lacking in German cities, and the public is much inclined to resent all interference with its movements. Germans of the old school attribute this revolutionary spirit to the political changes which have come about since the republic was instituted. But as the crossing officers become more experienced their courage seems to rise, and there are indications that they will soon be enforcing their authority without hesitation. For the moment Germany does not seem to have recovered from the idea that democratic government makes it possible for everybody to have his own way, and defy authority at every turn.

SEARCH FOR OIL IN PHILIPPINES
FUTILE, COSTLY

Standard Oil Co. Spent Nearly $1,250,000 in Vain Attempts, Report

By Associated Press
San Francisco — In the recently abandoned quest for oil on the Bonduc peninsula of the Island of Luzon in the Philippines the Standard Oil Co., of California spent approximately $1,250,000, five years of continuous and futile effort and provided an arduous and hazardous job for the party of prospectors. It was explained in a statement issued at the company's main office here.

"The effort in the Philippines," said the report, "has been watched with great interest by the United States government, numerous branches of which realized the vast importance of an American oil supply on the other side of the Pacific Ocean."

"The failure to find oil at Bonduc does not prove that there is no oil in 'the islands.' It means that there is none in the area prospected. There is oil to the north, in Japan, and to the south, in Borneo, and it may yet be found in the Philippines group, where there has been only one real drilling campaign, the one just finished."

"The Philippines expedition," the statement pointed out, "furnishes a striking example of the hazards of the oil industry. The search for hidden deposits of petroleum is uncertain—the industry seeks and sometimes finds and sometimes doesn't. In either case the expense is great, requiring resources of vast size. There is compensation, however, for where many wildcat ventures may fail, one may proceed with profitable results. Such is the history of oil."

"Having heard reports of favorable surface conditions on the Bonduc peninsula, the company initiated its own geological survey in 1915. In December, 1920 an expedition sailed from San Francisco for Manila. Everything necessary to life and work had to be shipped from California. The field of operations was in a wild, scarcely inhabited region of southern Luzon, well away from civilization, a tropical land of great heat and torrential rain, an area of typhoons, of feid humanity and lurking disease, of snakes, alligators, deer and wild pigs."

The deepest of the several holes drilled went to a depth of 5,120 feet. Floods and other climatic extremes frequently interfered with the work.

CERTIFICATES FOR TRUTHFUL RADIO
AMATEUR, IS PLAN

Leading Broadcasting Stations of United States and Canada Launch Move

By Associated Press
Chicago—Another innovation in the radio world was launched Oct. 14, when a score of the leading broadcasting stations of the United States and Canada began the issue of engraved stamps, each bearing the signature of the individual station, to listeners who submit reasonable proof they have actually heard a station's program.

It is planned to give radio fans another sport in stamp collecting as well as make bona fide reports of long distance radio reception. The idea, conceived by Towner K. Webster, brother of the novelist, has been adopted by stations in virtually all the larger cities of the country and later is expected to be universally in vogue. The stamps bear upon their face a picture of an eagle standing between two aerial towers of a radio-casting station, the one emblematic of the king of the air and other signifying the king of the ether. Below the pictured design of the two kings are the station call letters and in the corners are the letters "K K O," selected to identify the stamps from spurious issues which might be put out.

An album has been prepared for the stamps, with pages arranged by states and provinces. For the lucky fans is a page of stamps for the more powerful foreign stations which are occasionally heard in America. The stations having the greater amount of power are listed in the upper left-hand corner, and those with lesser power range to the right and on lines below.

In addition to the regular station stamps it is also proposed that commemorative stamps be issued for special events which are broadcast, such as the inaugural address of the next President of the United States, the national conventions, or other events of nationwide importance.

FIND FREAK BLOCK OF ICE BURIED IN EARTH

By Associated Press
Reno, Nov.—A freak of nature near here in the form of a huge solid block of ice buried 12 feet underground, measuring 60 feet in length, 20 feet in width and 10 feet in thickness, was uncovered recently by a steam shovel while working on the new Truckee River highway. The workmen, after making numerous attempts to go around the ice, finally were forced to blast their way through it with high explosives.

It is believed that originally the ice, which is estimated to be about 40 years old, was a field of snow on the mountain side above and was compressed into its present form by an avalanche of earth, rocks and trees.

The Leicester

SIXTEENTH Century England under the Tudors represents an age of development seldom paralleled in history. Flowing to full splendor during the brilliant reign of Elizabeth, English thought and accomplishment—in every sense of development—reached a pre-eminence that marvelled the world of that day.

It was just at a time of vastly increasing wealth and general prosperity, a time of comfort and luxury, of better living. Harking back to this period of English Renaissance, Berkey & Gay designers have perpetuated in the Leicester suite for the dining room, some of the characteristics of spirit and detail that typified the work of early Elizabethan craftsmen.

All broad surfaces are of richly figured, matched walnut, with solid parts in gumwood. The drawer fronts and doors are panelled, following a geometrical design typical of the times. The simple moldings forming octagon patterns, with corner onlays of burl, are developed in dark tones, a color treatment further reflected in the carved onlays of the aprons and flutings and ebonized onlays. An added note of decoration is in the use of a rosewood and satinwood frieze, inlaid in a herring-bone pattern. The finish is wax, hand-rubbed to a dull gloss.

The sideboard of this Berkey & Gay suite has been especially equipped for the housekeeper's convenience. The right hand compartment is fitted with two solid mahogany trays, made unusually deep, for the storage of linens or glassware. The compartment to the left is fitted with a shallower solid mahogany tray, flush-lined and partitioned, for the holding of silver.

Purpose of Life Is to Develop Possibilities Born

Heredity, education and environment are parts of a three-legged stool, said Professor M. A. Honline of Pasadena at the Saturday afternoon meeting of the Wisconsin Young People's Conference held in First Congregational church. And whatever biologists, pedagogues, or sociologists may say in behalf of the particular importance of their respective fields of activity, no one of the three legs is more effective than another, for the chair would stand crooked if any leg were cut short. In the language of the farmer, the seed, the soil and the cultivation determine the result of the crop, and no one is effective without the other.

The human organism can become through development only as much as nature decrees to start with, said Mr. Honline, and he qualified this statement, which is fatalistic to a certain degree, with the remark that environment and education can do work within the limits set by heredity. As an example of this, he used the homely example of the utility of trying to add one cubic foot to one's height. In evolution of this idea, he said that the difference in men is not determined by their education or environment. Log cabins don't make Abraham Lincoln nor did Harvard college produce Teddy Roosevelt. The chance to make great men was perhaps dependent upon the facts of environment or education. Woodenheaded parents usually produce woodenheaded children, and the fact that the lives of children are so directly concerned with the qualities of the parents is a tremendous problem for people of this age to deal with.

NOT BORN ALIKE
We may be born politically free and equal, but biologically we are fettered and unequal, Mr. Honline declared, since we must recognize the fact that there is such a thing as heredity and predestination in biology as well as in theology. A good human crop must have good healthy human seed to start from, and will depend upon the germ as well as the soil or cultivation.

NEED STRONG BODY
When a child goes to school, he takes a mind in a body, and the condition of that body determines what the teacher can do with the mind. Capacity isn't increased in school or by education, the speaker said; it is only developed. And the most education can hope to accomplish is to develop potentialities into actualities. The big problem for every boy and girl is the discovery of what nature has fitted him to be. Don't try to become what you know you will not be best qualified for, through some misplaced idea of stubbornness. Discipline is good in its place, but it ought not to govern what your life is to become. The ideal of teachers nowadays ought to be to give pupils something in relating to life and living, and particularly to the personality of the individual, not to death. What physiology is to a doctor, psychology which is the study of mind, should be to the pedagogue.

Environment is equally balanced with the other two legs of the stool, for there is no impression without ex-

LAWYER WITHDRAWS AS ATTORNEY FOR SLAYERS

By Associated Press
Dedham, Mass. — Fred H. Moore, who was chief of a group of lawyers active in the defense of Nicholas Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted in 1921 of the murder of a paymaster and guard in South Braintree but not yet sentenced, has withdrawn his appearance as counsel, the clerk of the Norfolk-superior court announced Saturday.

pression, says Mr. Honline. The evils of heredity may often be overcome and lie dormant in a good environment and consequently, it is the job of every person to estimate the best features of this environment and make the most of them.

Professor Honline closed his speech with a statement of the purpose of every young person attending the conference, declaring that it was the ideal of everyone to grow in wisdom, and in stature, and in favor with God and man. To do this is development, and less than this is not education, full and complete.
